Understanding your relationship with Ameriprise Financial and your financial advisor
Ameriprise Financial takes safeguarding your accounts seriously

We value the confidence you place in us and are committed to keeping your accounts safe. Find out more about our privacy policy at ameriprise.com/privacy.

Safeguard: We take our responsibility to safeguard your personal information very seriously and have multiple controls in place to protect your identity and account information. When you register to access your accounts on the secure site on ameriprise.com, we ask you to select three security questions and create answers that only you will know. And if we ever need to confirm your identity, we give you the option of answering one of these questions or requesting a one-time passcode.

Tip: You can also take these steps to help protect yourself from online fraud:

- Ensure your online user name and password are secured and remain confidential. If you want to provide access to your online accounts to someone else, please formally designate that person(s) with power of attorney.
- Sign up to receive text and email alerts to notify you about activity on your Ameriprise accounts. Just log on to the secure site on ameriprise.com and select Profile > Communication Preferences to set up and manage alerts.
- Use the Message Center to share account and personal information with your financial advisor safely and securely. Log in to the secure site on ameriprise.com and select Transfers & Tools > Message Center.
- Install antispyware, antivirus and firewall software to protect information on your computer.

We will never ask you to provide your personal information or account information through an email message.

We value the confidence you have placed in us and are committed to ensuring your account information and access are safeguarded. To find out more about how to keep your information secure and to view our Online Security Guarantee, visit the Privacy and Security Center at ameriprise.com/privacy.

Safeguard: When you contact us, whether online at ameriprise.com or through the Customer Service Department, we will ask you for personal information to verify your identity. This is done for your protection.

Tip: Never share this type of personal identity information with others.

Safeguard: Your financial advisor may make certain transactions, such as buying and selling securities or sending disbursements from your account, on your behalf by following your instructions. Other transactions, such as trading in a discretionary manner or distributing money to third parties via check or wire/ACH transfer, require your written authorization. All transactions will be included in your account statement. Additionally, with most transactions involving investments, financial planning services or money movement to third parties, we will send you original transaction confirmations.

Tip: It’s a good practice to review every statement and confirmation you receive from us. Make sure that the transactions are accurate and have been carried out as you intended. If you have any concerns, contact your financial advisor or the Customer Service Department at 800.862.7919.

Safeguard: For your protection, we require that checks be made payable to an appropriate Ameriprise entity, such as Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc., or American Enterprise Investment Services, Inc. (AEIS).

Tip: Never make a check payable directly to your financial advisor or local financial advisor office. Please consult with your advisor on which entity you should make checks payable to.

Safeguard: Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. (Ameriprise Financial), does not accept cash.

Tip: Your financial advisor will not accept cash. Please do not ask your financial advisor, his or her staff, or any other Ameriprise Financial employee to do so.

Safeguard: Checks and drafts for money market accounts and your Ameriprise ONE® Financial Account will be sent directly to the address you provided. Your financial advisor cannot receive them for you.

Tip: If you don’t receive requested checks or drafts within 20 days of opening an account, contact the Customer Service Department at 800.862.7919.

Safeguard: We have a very strict policy regarding forgery. Financial advisors, their staff and any Ameriprise Financial employees are not allowed to sign any documents for you, even if you have given them permission.

Tip: Your financial advisor will not sign your name. Please do not ask your financial advisor to sign agreements or other forms on your behalf.

Our commitment to you

We listen
We take the time to talk with you — to get to know your dreams and goals — now and throughout our relationship with you.

We provide personal, high-quality advice
• Our approach is based on sound financial principles and a full view of your needs.
• We go beyond the numbers to understand your needs and provide you with clear actions you can take to help you achieve your dreams and feel more confident about the future.
• We tailor our advice to your personal objectives, time horizon and risk tolerance, as well as other factors.

We offer a variety of product solutions designed to meet your unique needs
We believe every client should have access to a comprehensive and competitive selection of products that provide:
• A thoughtful approach to managing your cash flow, including solutions for saving, spending and borrowing
• Confidence in your investment strategies — time-tested yet flexible enough for all kinds of markets
• Protection for the things that matter most
• Control over taxes and what you leave to your heirs

We have a long-term focus on your goals
• The ongoing relationship between you and your advisor is at the heart of what we do, to help you track your progress and adapt to changes in your life.
• We regularly reach out to you with meaningful information and ideas.
• We offer the Ameriprise Rewards and Achiever Circle programs to recognize your financial progress and success.

We provide full and clear information
You can expect us to be up front and accurate, offering full and clear information in all areas, including:
• The benefits, material risks and costs of financial solutions we recommend
• Information about any significant conflicts of interest related to the financial relationship between you and Ameriprise Financial or your financial advisor
• Timely transaction confirmations, account statements and other communications from us, with your choice of paper or electronic delivery for many materials
• Full details of costs associated with our services and the costs related to individual transactions, including commissions, sales charges (or loads) and other fees
• Descriptions of our policies and practices for the collection, use and safeguarding of your nonpublic personal information

We are committed to quality service
• We make it easy to work with us by doing our best to anticipate your needs and provide you with intuitive, flexible ways to find what you need.
• You can expect fair, ethical and respectful treatment in all interactions with us.
• You can work with the financial advisor of your choice. If you are ever dissatisfied with the service you receive, you can request a different financial advisor by calling 800.862.7919.
• You can expect fair consideration and a prompt response from us if you experience an issue or have a concern. If, for any reason, any issue or concern is not resolved to your complete satisfaction, you should contact your financial advisor right away. If the issue or concern is still not settled to your satisfaction, follow the additional steps outlined on page 39 of this guide.
Making the most of your relationship with Ameriprise Financial

Inform and educate yourself

• Seek out information by asking your financial advisor questions about your financial plan, your accounts, specific transactions, risks, potential conflicts of interest, financial terminology, commissions, sales charges and fees.

• If you don’t understand the purpose of a recommendation by your financial advisor, ask questions until you fully understand.

• Read thoroughly all sales literature, prospectuses, account agreements, policies and contracts, and, when available, other offering documents before making financial decisions. Consider carefully all risks, fees and other factors explained in these documents. Remember — every investment has some degree of risk, and it is possible to lose money on any investment.

• Ask your financial advisor how you may be able to manage these risks. Some risks relate to market fluctuations, inflation rates, credit ratings of bond and securities issuers, tax issues, currency-exchange rates for international investments, the liquidity of your investments and withdrawal rates.

• Withdrawal-rate risks are especially critical if you are preparing for or are in retirement, and your withdrawal rate is a major factor in how long your assets will last. Even when your portfolio is appropriately structured and your investments are performing well, we recommend that you consider several factors when deciding how or when to withdraw your money. In general, your age, your life expectancy, and the type and amount of your investments will help you determine the best way to access your money. Periodically reviewing your retirement income strategy with your financial advisor can help you plan for and manage this risk over time.

Communicate with your financial advisor

• Provide complete and accurate information about your financial situation, goals and risk tolerance so your financial advisor can provide you with appropriate planning advice and recommendations.

• Review your financial plan and portfolio regularly, including whenever you experience a significant change in your life. You may also want to make appropriate changes based on the performance of your investments.

• Notify your financial advisor promptly whenever you experience a significant change in your life, for example, if your financial goals, income or net worth changes.

• Tell your financial advisor about mutual fund holdings you own outside of Ameriprise Financial, so he or she can make sure you receive any applicable “breakpoint” discount.

Keep your accounts current

• Work with your financial advisor to ensure you have adequate cash holdings or available margin-buying power in your investment accounts. When buying securities, withdrawing money from your account or paying fees, having adequate cash on hand will make these processes faster and easier.

• Review all transaction confirmations and account statements or reports carefully. If you find an error or discrepancy, please promptly contact your financial advisor or call us at 800.862.7919.

• When things change — like your address, other contact information or even beneficiary designations — let us know right away so that we can stay in touch without interruption and stay current with your wishes.

Use the right resources — carefully

• Understand that Ameriprise Financial does not provide legal or tax advice. You should consult an attorney or a tax advisor for legal and tax questions, respectively.

• Keep in mind that you are fully responsible for all your financial decisions.

• Consider carefully the validity and reliability of financial and investment information obtained from all sources, especially unsolicited information obtained over the Internet.

• The opinions of your financial advisor should never be interpreted as a guarantee of future performance or rate of return.

• It’s important to understand that the manner in which your advisor is compensated — described later in this guide — may create a potential conflict of interest. We believe it’s in everyone’s best interest to know about potential conflicts of interest up front. To that end, if you have any questions about conflicts of interest after reading this guide, discuss them with your financial advisor.
As you begin pursuing your financial goals, it’s important to understand the features as well as the fees, costs and other factors associated with the products and services you may purchase. While not all the information will apply to your specific situation today, we encourage you to refer to this information whenever you purchase new products or services.

<td>Fees are determined by the complexity of your situation and your financial advisor’s financial planning fee schedule. When you participate in ongoing financial planning, you pay an annual fee. The fee for the first year of service may differ from the fee you pay in future years. You also have the option to engage in a consolidated advisory fee relationship for which you will pay a single asset-based fee for Managed Accounts Service(s) and financial planning service.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Other things to consider

The initial meeting is free of charge, and is an opportunity to share your dreams and goals and get to know your advisor. In most cases you may need only one agreement, amended as needed for fee changes, relating to your ongoing financial planning services.

The financial planning recommendations you receive are portable. You can act on these recommendations by purchasing products and services through Ameriprise Financial or another financial services provider.

Over the course of your relationship with Ameriprise Financial, you may work with more than one financial advisor. If for any reason your financial advisor changes, we will work with you to ensure that your needs are met during that transition. At all times, we remain committed to helping you achieve your financial goals.

Managed accounts
Ameriprise Financial offers an asset-based investment advisory service — Ameriprise Managed Accounts. Within managed accounts you may choose one or more of the following investment solutions:

Nondiscretionary investment accounts provide you access to a broad array of mutual funds, exchange traded funds (ETF) and other publicly traded securities. You can bring all your investments together into one coordinated and flexible portfolio, allocated according to your investment needs, with the added benefits of ongoing financial advice and portfolio reviews.

Discretionary advisory accounts are available in a variety of solutions:

- A variety of asset-allocated portfolios comprised of mutual fund and/or ETF portfolios are overseen by professional investment managers who provide asset allocation, investment selection, and portfolio construction with ongoing monitoring and dynamic reallocation.
- Your Ameriprise financial advisor directs the purchase or sale of a broad array of mutual funds and other publicly traded securities, within a single account on your behalf. Your financial advisor will purchase and sell securities in your Account that are suitable for you and consistent with your investment objectives, time horizon, financial situation and risk tolerance.
- Separately managed accounts (SMAs) give you access to professional investment managers who typically provide services to institutional investors like pension plans and foundations. In addition, SMAs allow you direct ownership of securities, providing greater transparency of holdings, the potential for customization based on your individual values and personal tax-management opportunities.
- Unified managed accounts (UMAs) are innovative investment vehicles that can hold SMAs, mutual funds and ETFs in a single account. UMAs give you access to top investment managers at lower asset levels, all in one unified account.

Advisory service fees
Annual asset-based fee. For each managed account, you pay an annual asset-based fee based on the services provided and the assets held within your account(s). This annual fee is generally broken into monthly or quarterly payments.

Service fees. Fees, if applicable, are deducted directly from the cash balance in your account (e.g., wire transfers and returned check fees). A complete list can be viewed online at ameriprise.com/brokeragefees.

Interest on margin account. You will be charged interest on the outstanding margin balance if you have a margin account. Margin is only available for nondiscretionary investment advisory accounts.

Other things to consider
- You will not pay sales charges on investment advisory assets purchased in managed accounts. If Ameriprise receives distribution and shareholder fees for mutual funds held in managed accounts, they will be rebated to clients. Some investments have their own underlying fees and expenses, which are charged in addition to the advisory service fees listed above. Examples of those fees and expenses are described later in the investment product overviews.
- You will not be charged an account maintenance fee for a managed account.
- The annual asset-based fee covers transaction costs when trades are executed on an agency basis through our affiliated clearing agent, AEIS. If you invest in an SMA and the investment manager places transactions for execution with a third-party broker-dealer other than AEIS, referred to as “step-out trades,” any additional trading costs incurred will be passed along to you, are included in the purchase or sale price of the transacted security, and are in addition to the annual asset-based fee.
- If you purchase both financial planning services and an asset-based investment advisory account, it’s important that you understand what you’re paying for — financial planning services, investment advisory account services or both. If you enroll in both, you can choose to pay separate and distinct investment advisory fees for each service or you may have a consolidated advisory fee relationship for which you will pay a single asset-based fee for both services.

Before opening a managed account, be sure to read the following documents (provided by your financial advisor):

- Ameriprise Managed Accounts Client Disclosure Brochure, or if you have elected to pay a consolidated advisory fee, the Ameriprise Managed Accounts and Financial Planning Service Disclosure Brochure
- Applicable Managed Account Client Agreement
- Ameriprise Brokerage Client Agreement

- Any applicable portfolio/strategy fact sheets
- Available information about the trading practices of each investment manager, including the average cost of step-out trades for the applicable investment strategy.

Individual retirement accounts (IRAs)
An IRA is designed to help you save for your retirement. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) restricts the amount you can contribute to or withdraw (without penalty) from an IRA. Ameriprise Financial offers a variety of IRAs, including traditional IRAs, Roth IRAs, Simplified Employee Pension (SEP) IRAs and more. IRAs can include a variety of account types, including transaction-based brokerage, fee-based investment advisory and certificate accounts.

Before opening an IRA account, be sure to read the following documents (provided by your financial advisor):

Your Guide to IRAs
Your Guide to Roth IRAs
Your Guide to SIMPLE IRAs

Periodic fees and expenses
You may be required to pay an annual IRA custodial fee in addition to the fees and expenses related to your account and underlying investments.

We may reimburse your brokerage account maintenance fee or applicable service fees under certain circumstances — for example, the account maintenance fee is reimbursed when you or your household maintains a certain account balance. The annual custodial-fee waiver does not include fees or sales charges related to your transaction-based brokerage or fee-based investment advisory account or to the underlying investments within your IRA. To ensure that you are obtaining all available waivers, please talk with your financial advisor.

Service fees. If applicable, fees for wire transfers, returned checks, overnight delivery and similar services will be deducted directly from the cash balance in your account. Please note that the fees may be revised from time to time. Service fees may be waived by Ameriprise Financial or reimbursed by your advisor. A fee schedule can be viewed online at ameriprise.com/brokeragefees.

Other things to consider
• Traditional IRAs offer the opportunity for tax-deferred growth of any earnings and may permit tax-deductible contributions.
• Roth IRAs offer the opportunity for tax-free growth of any earnings but do not permit tax-deductible contributions.

Sales charges
Depending on the share class you purchase, you may pay a front-end load or a back-end load. See “Mutual funds” on the following page.

Periodic fees and expenses
The following fees may be charged by the 529 plan sponsor:

- Annual maintenance fee, which may be reduced or eliminated based on certain criteria, such as making systematic purchases or maintaining a certain minimum balance.

For information on periodic fees and expenses of 529 plans held in an Ameriprise® brokerage account, see “Brokerage Fees” on pages 4–5.

529 plans
A 529 plan is a tax-advantaged savings plan designed to encourage saving for future college costs. Earnings in 529 plans are subject neither to federal tax nor, in most cases, state tax as long as withdrawals are used for eligible college expenses, such as tuition and room and board. Ameriprise Financial offers a variety of 529 plans from several different mutual fund families, including plans in many of the states that offer state tax deductions or credits on 529 contributions.

Ameriprise offers 529 plan accounts held both directly at the 529 plan sponsor and held in an Ameriprise® brokerage account.

Before purchasing a 529 plan, be sure to read the 529 Plan’s Official Statement, provided by your financial advisor.

• The total asset-based compensation received by Ameriprise Financial Services and its affiliates in the aggregate includes payments (i) directly from you; and (ii) indirectly through Fixed Fees, meaning cost-reimbursement payments and other servicing and account maintenance fees (e.g., sub-transfer agent or networking fees) as described in “Mutual Fund Share Classes in Managed Accounts” section of the Ameriprise Managed Accounts Client Disclosure Brochure.

• A discretionary account is one in which you give an investment adviser written authority to buy and sell securities in your account without obtaining your prior consent for each specific trade. In a nondiscretionary account, your financial advisor must obtain your consent before each transaction is executed on your behalf.
In addition:

- Administration/management fees, based on a percentage of daily net assets, are paid monthly to the 529 plan sponsor for the investment management and administrative services it provides.
- Expenses of underlying funds are paid indirectly through periodic fees and expenses charged by the underlying mutual funds in which your 529 plan invests. See “Mutual funds” below.

Other things to consider
Favorable state income-tax treatment and benefits for investing in a 529 plan may be available only if you invest in a 529 plan offered by the state in which you pay taxes. Benefits vary from state to state. For more information, consult with a qualified tax professional or contact the 529 plan for the state in which you pay taxes.

Investment products

Stocks, bonds, options and structured products
A wide range of individual securities — including stocks, bonds, options and structured products — are available when you establish a transaction-based brokerage account or a fee-based investment advisory account.

Before opening a brokerage account, be sure to read the following documents (provided by your financial advisor):
- Ameriprise Brokerage Client Agreement
- Other Important Brokerage Disclosures
- Applicable Structured Product Disclosure Document and Risk Acknowledgement Form
- Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options

If purchasing in a managed account, also read:
- Ameriprise Managed Accounts Client Disclosure Brochure and/or Ameriprise Advisory Account Informational Brochure and associated client agreement(s)

Sales charges
If purchasing securities through a transaction-based brokerage account:
- At the time of purchase, you may pay a commission, transaction fee or markup on securities purchased.
- At the time of sale, you may pay a commission, a markdown or a transaction fee on the security sold.

Commissions do not apply to securities purchased within a managed account, although you pay an annual asset-based fee.

Mutual funds
We currently sell mutual funds from nearly 175 fund companies through a transaction-based brokerage account and through certain fee-based investment advisory accounts. These fund families include Columbia Funds (including funds branded Columbia, Columbia Acorn and Threadneedle) (“Columbia Funds”), which are managed by Columbia Management Investment Advisers, LLC (Columbia Management Investment Advisers or CMIA), or Columbia Wanger Asset Management, LLC (Columbia Wanger), our affiliates.

Before purchasing mutual funds, be sure to read the following documents (provided by your financial advisor):
- Prospectus(es) of funds in which you may want to invest
- An Investor’s Guide to Purchasing Mutual Funds through Ameriprise Financial (found at ameriprise.com/funds)

Sales charges
If purchasing mutual funds through a transaction-based brokerage account, one of the following sales charges will apply:
- Time of purchase: a front-end load of up to 5.75% on mutual fund Class A shares
- Time of sale (or “redemption”): a back-end load (or “contingent deferred sales charge”) on some mutual fund share classes you sell within a certain period
- No load: a no-load mutual fund does not require time-of-purchase or time-of-sale fees

If purchasing mutual funds through a fee-based investment advisory account, the above sales charges (front-end or back-end load) do not apply — although you will pay an annual asset-based fee (as described in the account overview section).

You can learn more about fund families and mutual funds offered in our transaction-based brokerage accounts and our managed accounts with our online Mutual Fund Screener Tool.

Visit www.ameriprise.com/products-services/investments/mutual-funds; then select the “Availability” tab.

Check out the Fund Analyzer at the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority website (finra.org) to help you determine the share class you may be eligible for and want to purchase.

Periodic fees and expenses

You indirectly pay a fund’s operating expenses, which are paid from the general assets of the fund. These fees reduce investment performance. Operating expenses may include the below fees (as disclosed in the fee and expense table of each fund’s prospectus).

• Management fees are paid from the fund to the fund’s investment advisor for services, including research, portfolio-manager and trader compensation, and technology and related administrative services.

• Distribution and shareholder servicing (12b-1) fees are paid by the fund to the fund’s principal underwriter for distribution and marketing-related expenses and ongoing shareholder services. The principal underwriter typically pays a portion of these fees to dealers and their financial advisors who sell the funds and service shareholders of the fund. For transaction-based brokerage accounts, we receive these fees and pay a portion of these fees to financial advisors who sell funds and service fund shareholders. If we receive these fees for mutual funds held in managed accounts, they will be rebated to clients.

• Other expenses typically include other operating fees and expenses paid by the fund, including administration, transfer-agency, custodial and other nonadvisory fees.

Funds also pay portfolio transaction costs. These include brokerage commissions paid to brokers for trading portfolio securities held in the fund. Funds also pay implied commissions (or “markups”) for principal transactions (e.g., transactions made directly with a dealer) in most fixed-income securities and options or other derivatives. These costs are in addition to the operating expenses described on the previous page.

Funds that invest in other funds (underlying funds), including fees and expenses associated with owning shares of the underlying funds (acquired fund fees and expenses).

Other things to consider

• Mutual funds are offered in different share classes — usually Classes A, C, no-load, advisory and institutional classes. The classes differ in sales charges and ongoing fees. The right share class for you typically depends on things like how long you plan to hold the fund, the amount you are able to invest, the expenses you pay and whether you qualify for breakpoint discounts. Advisory, institutional or other share classes that do not have a sales charge and do not assess distribution and shareholder servicing (12b-1) fees (collectively, “Advisory Shares”) are offered in all managed accounts as the primary mutual fund share class, where available to us through a selling agreement.

• Many mutual fund companies offer breakpoint discounts if you invest more than a certain dollar amount. These discounts may be based on your current purchase or on your total holdings in the fund family, including the holdings of your family or household members. Certain account types, such as retirement plan accounts, may be eligible for discounts and waivers.

Alternative Investments
Ameriprise Financial offers alternative investment solutions that include non-traded real estate investment trusts (non-traded REITs), non-traded business development companies (non-traded BDCs), non-traded closed-end funds (non-traded CEFs), hedge fund offerings, managed futures funds, private equity offerings, real estate private placements funds, 1031 exchanges and exchange funds. Your financial advisor can provide more information about alternative investments upon request.

Alternative investments fees and expenses
Further information about the risks, fees and expenses of these products are disclosed in the client application or risk disclosure document you sign, as well as the prospectus or private placement memorandum you receive. Read these documents carefully before you invest.

Non-traded REITs
Ameriprise Financial offers publicly registered, non-traded REITs.

Non-traded REITs are investment programs that pool funds from individual investors to acquire assets such as real estate. Non-traded REITs may provide income to clients in the form of monthly or quarterly distributions based on the rent or mortgage payments, may provide capital appreciation through growth, or may provide a combination of both income and capital appreciation. Non-traded REITs may also return the clients’ principal investment.

Before purchasing, be sure to read the following documents (provided by your financial advisor):

• Non-traded REIT prospectus

• At the time of purchase, be sure to review with your financial advisor the following section of the Direct Investment Application for Non-traded Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs): Suitability Requirements and Client Review of Risks (Parts 3 and 6)

Non-traded REIT fees and expenses
All fees and expenses related to your investment in a non-traded REIT are paid for out of your invested capital. Typically, 12–15% of your investment goes to pay for expenses of organizing the offering of the non-traded REIT and for acquiring properties, etc. These costs include, but are not limited to:

• Selling commissions
• Ongoing distribution fee
• Dealer/manager fees
• Marketing-support fees
• Fund-formation expenses
• Accounting expenses
• Attorney expenses
• Organization and offering expenses
• Acquisition fees
• Technology costs
• Ongoing investment or property-management fees
• Asset-management expenses

A further description of these expenses can be found in the non-traded REIT prospectus.

Other things to consider

• There may be a less expensive or less complicated product that could be more suitable for you.
• Non-traded REITs are not appropriate for all investors. You should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of these products before investing.
• There are net-worth and/or liquid net-worth thresholds you must meet, which vary by state and non-traded REIT offering.
• Shares of non-traded REITs are not easily converted to cash and are not traded on a public stock exchange. There is no formal secondary market for non-traded REITs. Redemption programs vary by non-traded REIT issuer and are limited. It may be difficult to liquidate your investment.

• Non-traded REIT products are complex, long-term, illiquid investments and are suitable only for clients with long-term investment goals of at least 7–10 years. There can be no assurance that a secondary market for the non-traded REITs will exist. An investment in a non-traded REIT is subject to many of the same risks as a direct investment in real estate. Such risks include, but are not limited to, market risk, issuer-creditworthiness risk, economic risk, distressed-property risk, diversification risk, sector/concentration risk and higher-volatility risk. In addition, some of the properties held in non-traded REITs may be subject to balloon-payment financing, refinancing of maturing debt and/or bankruptcy, resulting in a potentially significant decline in the overall value of the non-traded REIT.

• Distributions are not guaranteed and may be suspended or halted. Distributions may exceed operating cash flow, resulting in return of principal.

• Non-traded REITs may use leverage, which may accelerate the velocity of potential losses.

• Ameriprise Financial is a distributor of non-traded REIT offerings and does not participate in selecting, managing or selling the underlying properties or investments of these products.

• The value of a non-traded REIT fluctuates with the portfolio of the underlying real-estate properties; shares may be sold at a price that may be more or less than the original price you paid; and there may be significant conflicts of interest as disclosed in the fund’s prospectus.

Ameriprise Certificates

Ameriprise® Certificates are registered Investment Company Act products that offer liquidity options as well as:

• Flexible terms

• Principal guaranteed by the Ameriprise Certificate Company (ACC)

• Low investment minimums — as little as $50 per month

• Rates designated by the Ameriprise Certificate Company

Ameriprise Certificates entitle you to receive, at the end of a stated period, an amount equal to the amount you invest, plus interest at predetermined rates. The initial rates we determine will be established and communicated to you at the time of purchase unless they are based upon the return of a market index.

Before purchasing an Ameriprise Certificate, be sure to read the Ameriprise Certificates Prospectus (provided by your financial advisor).

Periodic fees and expenses

Withdrawal penalties may be deducted from your certificate account balance if you withdraw money during the term, depending on the certificate product. The Ameriprise Cash Reserve Certificate does not have any withdrawal penalties. The other fees and expenses listed below are paid by the ACC and will not be charged to your account.

Advisory and services fees are paid by the ACC to the company's investment adviser, Columbia Management Investment Advisers, LLC, for managing certificate assets and providing other services to the ACC.

Distribution fees are paid by the ACC to Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc., for the distribution of Ameriprise Certificates.

Transfer agent fees are paid by the ACC to Columbia Management Investment Services Corp. for the maintenance of certificate-owner accounts and records.

Other expenses — such as record keeping, accounting, regulatory reporting, audit, legal, custodial, securities lending and other non-investment-related services — are necessary to operate the ACC.

Other things to consider

Certificates are backed by reserves of cash and qualified assets on deposit at the ACC and are not federally or FDIC insured, and include investment risk, including possible loss of principal. The assets backing the certificates have varying ratings and generally increase in market value as interest rates fall and decrease in market value as interest rates rise. These assets have risks, including credit risk, interest-rate risk, prepayment risk and extension risk.

Currently, Ameriprise® Certificates can be purchased or sold only through Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. If you choose to terminate your Ameriprise relationship, you may continue to hold them (without any fees), redeem them at any time (paying any applicable early-redemption penalty) or hold them until the penalty-free term ends.

Annuities

Variable annuities

Variable annuities offer lifetime-income options, certain death-benefit guarantees and optional living benefits. All guarantees are based on the continued claims-paying ability of the issuing company and do not apply to the performance of the variable subaccounts, which will vary with market conditions. Money you allocate to the variable subaccounts will fluctuate in value, depending on the investment performance of the underlying funds or funds of funds. You may also allocate contract value to an account that earns a guaranteed fixed rate of interest, if available.

Variable annuities are tax deferred, which means that, in general, income earned on your contract value grows tax deferred until you make withdrawals or begin to receive income.

Be sure to read the prospectuses (for the variable annuity and underlying funds) provided by your financial advisor before purchasing.

Fixed annuities

Fixed annuities are tax deferred, which means that, in general, income earned on your contract value grows tax deferred until you make withdrawals or begin to receive payouts. They are designed to meet long-term retirement and other long-range goals. In return for making one or more purchase payments, you earn a fixed rate of return, which is guaranteed by the insurance company. All guarantees are based on the continued claims-paying ability of the issuing company.

Immediate annuities

Immediate annuities are purchased with a single lump-sum payment and, in exchange, pay a guaranteed income that starts immediately. An immediate payment annuity is especially suitable for retirees who are concerned about outliving their savings. Options include a lifetime payment, a period certain, or a combination of the two, and may also provide benefits to beneficiaries.

- Sales charges

  You may pay a surrender (i.e., withdrawal) charge on a full or partial surrender of a variable or fixed-annuity contract. Each purchase payment you make to a contract generally has its own surrender charge that decreases over a specified period of time.

  Your contract may have a withdrawal provision that allows you to take out a portion of your money free of surrender charges. If your variable annuity is an IRA, a surrender prior to your reaching age 59½ may also be subject to an additional 10% IRS penalty.

  There are no explicit sales charges for immediate annuities. The payout is based on a fixed rate determined at time of purchase.

- Periodic fees and expenses

  Features and benefits, as well as costs and expenses, will vary depending upon the annuity product purchased.

  - Mortality, expense, administration and distribution risk fees are charged daily against the unit values of the subaccounts and are intended to cover the mortality and expense risks that the insurance company assumes.

  - Contract administration charges are assessed annually or upon surrender against contracts with less than a stated value and are intended to cover costs associated with establishing and maintaining your contract.

  - Variable annuities provide optional features or benefits, called riders, that are available for an extra charge. Fees for these riders are generally deducted from your contract value annually.

  - In a variable annuity, you indirectly pay the fees and expenses charged by the underlying fund when you choose subaccounts that invest in underlying funds. The types of fees and expenses associated with the underlying funds are similar to those described under “Mutual funds” and are disclosed in the prospectus for each fund. Keep in mind that the funds available through a variable annuity product are not publicly traded retail mutual funds.

- Other things to consider

  - Variable annuities are insurance products that are complex, long-term investment vehicles subject to market risk including the potential loss of principal invested. Before you invest, be sure to ask your financial advisor about the variable annuity's features, benefits, risks and fees, and whether the variable annuity is appropriate for you, based upon your financial situation, investment time horizon and objectives.

  - Some annuity contracts may be subject to a market-value adjustment that could result in gain or loss of principal when taking a withdrawal.

  - When you hold an annuity within a tax-deferred retirement plan, such as an IRA, the annuity does not provide any additional tax-deferred benefit. Consult with your financial advisor or tax advisor regarding additional benefits an annuity may offer. If your annuity is an IRA, you should read Your Guide to IRAs.

Additional product details

• Fixed annuities are long-term insurance products. Before you purchase, be sure to ask your financial advisor about the annuity’s features, benefits and fees, and whether the annuity is appropriate for you, based on your financial situation and objectives.

• Due to the guaranteed income nature of immediate annuities, there is limited flexibility after purchase.

• Be sure to consult with your advisor on whether the product is appropriate for you.

Life insurance

Additional product details — may vary by product

Permanent life insurance options

Permanent life insurance options can provide lifetime death-benefit protection when properly funded, and may also offer the opportunity for tax deferred cash-value growth.

Universal life (UL) — Universal life insurance is a form of permanent life insurance with flexible premiums and a flexible death benefit. This is due to the unbundling of the pricing factors (i.e., mortality, interest and expenses). Policy value is credited daily with a fixed rate of interest.

Indexed universal life (IUL) — IUL has all of the attributes of UL but offers an option for potential policy cash-value growth in addition to the fixed interest account. IUL allows you to allocate a portion of premiums to accounts that credit interest based on the movement of a linked market index or indices. Premiums allocated to indexed accounts are not invested in any stock or equity investment. There is often a maximum “cap” rate of interest that will be credited in exchange for a minimum “floor” interest rate that is guaranteed.

Variable universal life (VUL) — VUL has all of the attributes of UL but offers an option for potential policy value growth in addition to the fixed interest account by allocating a portion of your premiums to variable subaccounts that invest in underlying funds.

Funds that you allocate to the variable subaccounts will fluctuate in value, depending on the investment performance of the underlying funds.

Before purchasing, be sure to read the prospectuses (provided by your financial advisor) of the variable insurance product and underlying funds.

Whole life (WL) — WL provides a specified death benefit payable to the beneficiary as well as policy value that grows at a guaranteed rate. The premium and death benefit are not adjustable. WL policies may be eligible for dividend credits that can be used to purchase additional insurance, offset future premiums or be received in cash.

Term life insurance — Term life provides a specified death benefit payable to the beneficiary. Term policies generally offer a guaranteed level premium for a specified period of time (e.g., 10, 15, 20 or 30 years) after which the premium will increase annually. Term life policies do not build cash value.

Riders

Life insurance policies may provide optional coverage features, called riders, generally available for an additional charge. Rider charges are either included in policy pricing (WL and Term) or deducted from the policy value (UL, IUL and VUL). Some rider coverage options may include waivers for premiums or policy costs in the event of a disabling injury or illness, coverage for children or an option to access policy death benefit if the insured incurs costs related to extended care services at home or in a nursing facility.

Sales and surrender charges (UL, IUL, and VUL)

A sales charge is deducted from each premium you pay. A surrender charge may be deducted from policy values if you take a surrender or if the policy lapses during a specified period of time (e.g., 10, 15 or 20 years after purchase or increase in the coverage amount).

Periodic fees and expenses (UL, IUL, and VUL)

• Mortality and expense risk fees charged from the policy value are intended to cover the mortality and expense risk that the insurance company assumes.

• Cost of insurance is deducted from the policy value. This cost is generally based on your gender, age, risk classification and the number of years since the policy was issued. This rate is not guaranteed and may change from time to time as determined by the insurer, subject to maximum guaranteed rates stated in the policy.

• Policy fees and administrative charges are deducted from the policy value to cover expenses for underwriting, issuing and maintaining policy records.

• Expenses of underlying funds: With a variable life insurance policy, you indirectly pay the fees and expenses charged by the underlying fund when you choose subaccounts that invest in the underlying funds. The types of fees and expenses associated with the underlying funds are similar to those described under “Mutual funds” and are disclosed in the prospectus for each fund. Keep in mind that the underlying funds, similar to those available through a variable life insurance product, are not publicly traded retail mutual funds.
Other things to consider

- Surrenders, loans and withdrawals may cause a permanent reduction of policy cash values and death benefits; may negate any guarantee against lapse; and may cause the policy itself to lapse.

- If you wish to use your policy for liquidity needs, your options may include a policy loan, a withdrawal from the policy, and a surrender of the policy or a life settlement. Each of these options will have its own benefits and, potentially, certain disadvantages based on your individual needs and circumstances.

- Be sure to ask your financial advisor about the life insurance policy's features, benefits and fees, and whether the life insurance is appropriate for you, based upon your financial situation and objectives.

- Variable life insurance (VUL) is a complex, long-term investment vehicle that is subject to market risk, including the potential loss of principal invested. Before you invest, be sure to ask your financial advisor about the VUL policy's features, benefits, risks and fees, and whether VUL is appropriate for you, based on your financial situation, investment time horizon and objectives.

Additional product information

The Columbia Funds
The Columbia Funds are distributed by Columbia Management Investment Distributors, Inc., and may be purchased only from financial institutions authorized by Columbia Management Investment Distributors, Inc. (authorized financial institutions), including Ameriprise Financial and a number of unaffiliated financial institutions.

If you set up an account at an unaffiliated financial institution, you will not be able to transfer Columbia Fund holdings to that account unless that financial institution is an authorized financial institution that has entered into a selling agreement with Columbia Management Investment Distributors, Inc.

If you set up an account with an unaffiliated financial institution that does not have such a selling agreement, you must either maintain your Columbia Fund holdings with Ameriprise Financial or the authorized financial institution; find another authorized financial institution; or sell your shares, paying any applicable contingent deferred sales charge(s) and possibly create a taxable event.

RiverSource® annuities and insurance
Currently, RiverSource® variable annuities may be purchased only through Ameriprise Financial. RiverSource fixed annuities are also available through unaffiliated financial institutions. RiverSource life insurance policies may be purchased only through Ameriprise Financial. RiverSource annuities and RiverSource life insurance are issued by RiverSource Life Insurance Company and, in New York only, by RiverSource Life Insurance Co. of New York.

If you choose to leave Ameriprise Financial, any RiverSource life insurance policy and certain RiverSource annuities you purchased through Ameriprise Financial cannot be transferred to your new financial services provider. It may be possible to exchange your policy; however, the currently sold RiverSource® RAVA series of variable annuities can be transferred to your new financial services provider. Your annuity or insurance policy will remain active as long as you continue to make purchase payments and premium payments directly to the issuing insurance company.

We can appoint a new Ameriprise financial advisor to your contract(s) for servicing, or you may work directly with the Customer Service Department. Remember to always consult a tax advisor regarding possible tax implications for your specific situation.

Some products and services, including variable annuities and life products issued by third parties, are offered by Ameriprise financial advisors. Clients are encouraged to discuss with their advisors the differences in the products and advisor compensation, because some issuers, including RiverSource, may pay higher compensation than others.

Information relating to account ownership

Wherever possible, we treat accounts with multiple owners as an “or” relationship. This means that we will act or transact requests at the request of any single named account owner or authorized person.

Information relating to your household

We use information concerning your primary household group’s investment, insurance and annuity products to provide a consolidated statement. A primary household group may consist of an individual client, his or her spouse or domestic partner, and their unmarried children under age 21 who reside at the same address.

For certain products and services, the householding of your accounts may help qualify you for advantageous pricing or fees. Please contact the Customer Service Department at 800.862.7919 if you prefer to receive a statement covering only accounts that you own and not to participate in householding.

Householding also permits us to deliver a single copy of certain shareholder documents — such as prospectuses, supplements, annual reports, semiannual reports and proxies — to clients who own the security and who reside at the same address. To opt out of this service, call 866.273.7429 and reference the client ID located on your statement. Multiple mailings will resume within 30 days of opting out.
Information relating to payments made to Ameriprise for deposit

Checks made payable to Ameriprise or its affiliates may be converted to substitute payment images under Check 21 or to electronic debits processed via Automated Clearing House (ACH) for purposes of efficient payment processing. You can see this method of payment processing by viewing the check image or payment processed on your personal bank account.

If the check is processed electronically, your checking account will be debited for the amount of the check and the debit will appear on your checking account statement. You may elect not to have your check converted to an ACH file by contacting our Customer Service Department.

Good Funds
Ameriprise Financial maintains a Good Funds policy in which they apply a hold period on new deposits (ACH, checks, money orders) drawn against external financial services firms (i.e., banks, other broker-dealers, mutual fund companies, insurance companies, etc.). During the hold period, any request to move funds outside of Ameriprise Financial is not permitted. Deposits subject to the Good Funds policy typically become available for withdrawal on the next business day following the hold period. Requests to move funds internally from Ameriprise Financial products to other Ameriprise Financial products may be permitted during the hold period. Ameriprise Financial reserves the right to modify the hold period at its sole discretion. If you have further questions or wish to learn more about the policy, please contact your advisor.

Your financial advisor
Your financial advisor may be authorized to offer or sell products and/or services issued or distributed by Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc., or Ameriprise Certificate Company, Inc. Some products and services may be offered only by certain Ameriprise financial advisors. The products will be traded, distributed or placed through American Enterprise Investment Services, Inc., RiverSource Life Insurance Company, RiverSource Life Insurance Co. of New York and certain pre-approved, but unaffiliated, life insurance and fixed-annuity manufacturers. This broad range of products and services is designed to help you meet your individual financial objectives.

Your financial advisor assigned to your account(s) may be licensed in a state as:

- an insurance producer, which entitles your financial advisor to offer and sell insurance and fixed annuities,
- a broker-dealer agent, which entitles your financial advisor to offer and sell face-amount certificates, mutual fund shares, alternative investments, structured products, preferred securities, unit investment trust interests, variable annuities, variable life insurance, stocks, bonds and other general securities,
- a real estate broker or salesperson, which entitles your financial advisor to offer and sell real-estate interests, and/or
- an investment adviser representative, which entitles your financial advisor to offer and sell financial planning and managed accounts services on behalf of Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc.
Our company and how we get paid

Our company

To help you understand the relationship among the Ameriprise Financial, Inc., companies and to describe how we get paid, our corporate structure is outlined below.

You have become a client of Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. Many of our affiliates provide products that you may have the opportunity to choose from or will provide services to you over the course of your relationship with us (e.g., RiverSource® annuities and RiverSource insurance products are issued by RiverSource Life Insurance Company and, in New York only, by RiverSource Life Insurance Co. of New York).

Depending on the products and services you choose, you may receive account statements or other correspondence from these companies. As you read further, “we,” “our” and “us” refer to Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc.

The Threadneedle group of companies constitutes the international investment platform for Ameriprise Financial, Inc. The group consists of wholly owned subsidiaries of Ameriprise Financial, Inc., and provides services independent from Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc., including the Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc., broker-dealer business.
This section should be read in connection with the “Services, Fees and Compensation” and/or the “Client Referrals and Other Compensation” sections in this brochure.

Ameriprise Financial Services and its affiliates receive revenue from several different sources on the products and services you purchase. These sources include the fees and charges you pay, other arrangements we have in place with product companies, and investment and interest income. The revenue generated or received supports, in part, the development of new products, maintenance of our infrastructure, and retention of employees and financial advisors. Further on in this section you will find information on how our financial advisors are paid.

Cost Reimbursement Services and Payments.

Payments from product companies
Our affiliate AEIS performs, for the benefit of Ameriprise Financial Services, its financial advisors and clients, certain services, including but not limited to, distribution, marketing, administration and shareholder servicing support, applicable product due diligence, training and education, and other support-related functions such as trading systems, websites and mobile applications (collectively, “cost reimbursement services”). AEIS receives a variety of payments for cost-reimbursement services from products (so-called proprietary products) sponsored or managed by affiliated investment advisers (e.g., Columbia Management) and by nonproprietary product companies which reimburse the costs of client beneficial services provided by Ameriprise Financial Services and AEIS. The most significant of these payments are reimbursement for marketing support received from the product companies. The majority of these payments are received by AEIS and are discussed in the remaining paragraphs of this section. This compensation is included in the Fixed Fees (as defined and discussed in the “Appropriateness of a Managed Account for You” and “Fees and Compensation” sections) and offsets the costs of providing services to clients. If Ameriprise Financial Services and its affiliates did not receive this compensation, Ameriprise Financial Services would likely charge higher fees or other charges to clients for the services provided. When evaluating the reasonability of the fees and expenses incurred in a Managed Account, you should consider not just the Wrap Fee (including Fixed Fees), but also the fund-level fees and other compensation that Ameriprise Financial Services and its affiliates receive including payments for cost-reimbursement services described in this section and other cost-reimbursement and marketing-support payments received by us and our other affiliates, as described in the “How We Get Paid” and the “Revenue Sources for Other Ameriprise Financial, Inc., Companies” sections of this brochure as applicable. For a listing of all share classes that may be available for a given mutual fund, please refer to the mutual fund’s prospectus. Please contact your financial advisor for information about any limitations on share classes available through a Managed Account. For more information on fund families and mutual funds offered in our Managed Account Services, including the applicable Advisory Share class utilized, please refer to our Mutual Fund Screener Tool available atameriprise.com/products-services/investments/mutual-funds/; then select the “Availability” tab.

Mutual fund and 529 Plan marketing and sales-support payments
Mutual fund and 529 plan marketing and sales-support payments are received from certain mutual fund firms. These payments form a structure referred to here as “the Program” within the nearly 175 mutual fund families (“firms”) Ameriprise Financial Services offers. The goal at Ameriprise Financial Services is to offer a wide range of mutual funds using the following criteria:

- Product breadth and strong-performing funds
- Financial strength of the firm
- Marketing and sales-support payments paid to our affiliate AEIS to support cost-reimbursement services
- Ability to provide wholesaling and training to our financial advisors
- Tax benefits offered by individual states (specific to 529 Plans)
- Overall quality of the 529 Plan (specific to 529 Plans)

Ameriprise financial advisors may offer, and clients are free to choose, mutual funds from nearly 175 firms available. However, certain aspects of the Program may create a conflict of interest or incentive if Ameriprise Financial Services promotes, or Ameriprise financial advisors recommend, the mutual funds offered by a firm participating in the Program versus mutual funds offered by nonparticipating firms. As further described below, these conflicts and incentives may arise from the cost reimbursement provided to our financial advisors by, as well as the payments AEIS receives from, firms participating in the Program and with other relationships with firms, including Columbia Management; see the section titled “Columbia Funds” below. Ameriprise addresses this potential conflict of interest by calculating the compensation paid to our financial advisors on the same basis for all assets without regard to the amount of cost-reimbursement payments we or our affiliates receive in connection with client investments in mutual funds and other investment products.

To be included in the Program, firms have agreed to pay AEIS a portion of the revenue generated from the sale and/or management of mutual fund shares. Full Participation Firms make cost-reimbursement payments at a higher level than do firms that have arrangements discussed in the “Other financial relationships” section. For each year a client holds shares of a particular mutual fund, the mutual fund’s advisor or distributor may pay to AEIS an amount based on the value of the collective mutual fund shares held in clients’ accounts (asset-based payment). In addition, a mutual fund’s advisor or distributor may pay a fee to AEIS for cost-reimbursement services provided for the mutual fund shares purchased during a given period (sales-based payment). As of January 2017, Ameriprise Financial Services received an asset-based payment (up to 0.20% per year for mutual funds and 0.17% per year for 529 Plans) on some or all of Ameriprise Financial Services clients’ assets managed by the participating firms and a sales-based payment up to 0.20% for certain mutual funds and 529 Plans on some or all of the participating firms’ gross sales made through Ameriprise Financial Services. Certain mutual fund share classes may pay AEIS more marketing support. As a result, Ameriprise financial advisors may have an indirect incentive to sell such funds.

AEIS receives cost-reimbursement payments of up to 0.62% of money fund deposits for its money market fund sweep program. Effective April 2017, AEIS will receive up to 0.42% on these deposits. The amount that AEIS receives may be reduced based on fee waivers that are imposed by the money market fund firm.

These arrangements vary between firms and may be subject to change or renegotiation at any time. If a firm ceases to make cost-reimbursement payments, AEIS may remove the firm from the Program and Ameriprise Financial Services may cease to offer mutual fund shares and or the 529 Plan(s).

Full Participation. Twenty-eight firms fully participate in the Program. These fund firms include Columbia Management, Allianz Global Investors, American Century, BlackRock, Delaware Investments, Dreyfus, Deutsche Asset & Wealth Management, Eaton Vance, Federated, Fidelity, Goldman Sachs, Invesco, Ivy, Janus, John Hancock, J.P. Morgan, Legg Mason, Lord Abbett, MainStay, MFS, Neuberger Berman Management LLC, Nuveen, Oppenheimer, Principal, Prudential, Putnam, Virtus and Wells Fargo. These firms are referred to as “Full Participation Firms.”

We offer 529 Plans from 22 firms. Of those firms, 14 are Full Participation Firms. These fund firms include Allianz Global Investors, American Century, BlackRock, Columbia Management, Deutsche Asset & Wealth Management, Fidelity, Ivy, John Hancock, J.P. Morgan, Legg Mason, MFS, Oppenheimer and Putnam. Each of these firms is referred to as a “Full Participation Firm.”

The most current program information, as well as the previous calendar year’s totals of marketing support payments received from Full and Limited Participation Firms, in addition to distribution support amounts, may be viewed online by visiting ameriprise.com/funds and clicking on “An Investor’s Guide to Purchasing Mutual Funds and 529 Plans at Ameriprise Financial.”

Education, Training, Seminar Reimbursement and non-cash compensation. Full Participation Firms provide to Ameriprise financial advisors, and in some cases their clients, education, training, and support services relating to the funds they offer. These firms may reimburse AFSI and AFSI may subsequently reimburse Ameriprise financial advisors for client/prospect education events and financial advisor sales meetings, seminars and training events consistent with Ameriprise Financial Services policies. AFSI and its financial advisors may also receive nominal noncashes benefits from time to time. As a result, Ameriprise financial advisors may have a greater familiarity with and an incentive to sell funds and 529 Plans of Full Participation Firms.

Other financial relationships

Distribution Support Relationships. Ameriprise Financial Services also has cost-reimbursement arrangements with firms for distribution support services. These firms make cost-reimbursement payments to AEIS of up to 0.10% on assets for these services, which support the distribution of the fund’s shares and 529 Plans by making them available on one or more of Ameriprise Financial Services platforms. These mutual fund firms do not provide marketing and sales support such as those provided by Full Participation Firms to Ameriprise financial advisors.

Ameriprise Financial Services sells 529 Plans from eight firms that do not pay marketing or distribution support to Ameriprise Financial. Moreover, plans offered by these firms are available for sale to in-state residents.
only. Those firms are American Funds, Ascensus, First National Bank of Omaha, Hartford, Invesco, NorthStar Financial, Union Bank & Trust and Voya. Certain 529 Plans may pay Ameriprise Financial Services a fee of up to 1% assets for NAV rollovers.

The mutual fund’s distributor or affiliate may also make payments to AEIS for networking and/or omnibus support and other client services and account-maintenance activities. See the “Client Referrals and Other Compensation” section of this Disclosure Brochure for more information about these payments to AEIS.

Ameriprise Financial Services also provides clients with access to mutual funds offered by other firms through the relationship AEIS has with Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (“Schwab”), and Schwab’s mutual fund program. AEIS receives an asset-based fee of up to 0.40% per year on some or all of Ameriprise Financial Services clients’ assets managed by participating mutual fund firms.

AEIS and its affiliates may have other relationships with firms whose mutual funds Ameriprise Financial Services offers. These relationships may include affiliates of firms acting as a sub-adviser to CMIA, CMIA acting as a sub-adviser to a third-party firm, or affiliates of a firm managing an investment portfolio within another Ameriprise Financial Services or affiliated product, such as a RiverSource® variable annuity. Firms may use CMIA to manage an underlying investment option in products offered through the Program.

AEIS has a marketing-support agreement with BlackRock Advisors, LLC, with respect to mutual fund positions held by Ameriprise Financial Services customers. BlackRock, Inc., owns more than 5% of the outstanding shares of Ameriprise Financial, Inc., stock.

Columbia Funds. AEIS and other affiliates of Ameriprise Financial Services provide certain administrative and transfer agent services to the Columbia Funds. Ameriprise Financial Services and its affiliates generally receive more revenue from sales of affiliated mutual funds than from sales of other mutual funds. Employee compensation and operating goals at all levels of the company are tied to the company’s success. Certain employees may receive higher compensation and other benefits based, in part, on assets invested in affiliated mutual funds.

Payments from other nonproprietary product companies

Payments from Hedge Fund Offering Sponsors. AEIS, in consideration for its cost-reimbursement services, may receive ongoing investor service-fee payments of up to 1% of assets from hedge fund offering sponsors available in Ameriprise brokerage accounts.

Payments from UIT Sponsors. Certain UIT Sponsors with which AEIS has agreements may pay AEIS cost-reimbursement payments to help promote and support the offer, sale and servicing of UITs. These UIT Sponsors are granted full access to Ameriprise Financial Services and our financial advisors to promote their products. UIT Sponsors without such agreements, or no access firms, do not provide direct financial advisor education or sales support. Such marketing and sales support may create a conflict of interest if Ameriprise Financial Services promotes, or Ameriprise financial advisors recommend, the UITs from UIT Sponsors that have been granted full access versus UITs offered by nonparticipating firms. These conflicts may arise from the marketing and sales support provided to our financial advisors by, as well as the payments AEIS receives from, firms that have entered into such agreements.

Payments from Insurance Companies. Cost-reimbursement payments are received by Ameriprise Financial Services and/or its affiliate, AEIS, from affiliated and unaffiliated insurance companies. Ameriprise Financial Services sells annuity and insurance products to its clients manufactured by its affiliate, RiverSource, as well as from select unaffiliated insurance companies. Commissions payable to your financial advisor for variable annuity sales are equivalent among RiverSource and the unaffiliated insurance companies for comparable annuity products. Commissions payable on insurance products vary by manufacturer and product.

RiverSource and potentially other unaffiliated insurance companies may be permitted to reimburse AEIS and AEIS may subsequently reimburse Ameriprise financial advisors for client/prospect educational events and financial advisor sales meetings, seminars and training events consistent with Ameriprise Financial Services and AEIS policies, as applicable. These companies also provide support to an Ameriprise Financial Services internal sales desk, which in turn provides support to financial advisors. These unaffiliated variable annuity companies do not provide direct client or financial advisor education or sales support, other than product training materials, product sales literature and addressing client service issues. As a result, Ameriprise financial advisors may have a greater familiarity with RiverSource annuity products and may be more likely to sell those products.

From unaffiliated long-term care insurance product manufacturers, AEIS receives payments up to 30% of the commissionable premium. AEIS receives varying payments from unaffiliated life, disability and other insurance product manufacturers.

Payments from structured products sponsors.
AEIS receives selected dealer fees and/or marketing-support fees for the sale of structured products. These fees are up to 60 basis points multiplied by the term of the product, multiplied by the notional sales amount of the product.

Payments from managed futures fund sponsors.
AEIS receives cost-reimbursement payments of up to 0.25% of assets in managed futures funds.

Payments from private equity offering sponsors.
AEIS receives ongoing investor services fees for the sale of private equity offerings.

Payments from non-traded closed end fund sponsors.
AEIS receives cost-reimbursement payments of up to 1.0% of assets in non-traded closed end funds.

Payments from non-traded REIT and BDC sponsors.
AEIS receives cost-reimbursement payments of up to 2.50% of assets in non-traded REIT and nontraded BDCs.

Mutual Funds & ETFs Available to Investment Managers
Investment Managers that construct investment strategies utilizing mutual funds and ETFs may utilize any mutual fund or ETF available for sale in our Programs provided the fund selected meets operational and other requirements designed to facilitate transaction execution and ensure timely order processing. Mutual funds meeting these requirements primarily consist of mutual funds from Full Participation Firms. AEIS receives cost-reimbursement payments from the fund family when Investment Managers select mutual funds from Full Participation Firms for an investment strategy. The amount of any cost-reimbursement payments AEIS receives from mutual funds is not considered in determining which funds are available to Investment Managers. Investment Managers do not have access to information on which mutual funds are offered by Full Participation Firms or the rate of reimbursement a Full Participation Firm pays AEIS for cost-reimbursement services.

Mutual Fund & ETF Recommended List (the “Starting Point List”)
Ameriprise financial advisors may make mutual fund recommendations based on a group of funds that appear on the Starting Point List. The Starting Point List is developed by the Ameriprise Investment Research Group (IRG). Approximately 2,200 mutual funds are eligible for inclusion on the Starting Point List, which includes all mutual funds available for sale at Ameriprise Financial Services, including Full Participation Firms in the Ameriprise Financial Services Mutual Fund Program described above. When two similar mutual funds are equally recommendable for inclusion on the Starting Point List, IRG generally recommends, and therefore prefers, the mutual fund from a Full Participation Firm.

In developing the Starting Point List, the IRG applies a quantitative and qualitative evaluation process that includes an analysis of a fund’s returns, risk and expenses, the tenure of its portfolio managers, and the consistency of its performance and style. Certain mutual funds that would have otherwise been included on the Starting Point List were excluded due to their high investment minimums or expenses. The funds on the Starting Point List are subject to change periodically; however, changes to the Starting Point List should not be the sole reason to prompt trading.

This Starting Point List is developed by evaluating the performance characteristics of each fund’s A share class; the analysis is ultimately intended to apply at the mutual fund level. However, Managed Account clients may be unable to purchase a fund on the Starting Point List if that fund does not offer an Advisory share class. In addition, the Starting Point List was developed using those funds currently available through SPS Advantage, SPS Advisor or Ameriprise brokerage. As a result, clients may not be able to purchase a fund on the Starting Point List if that fund is not available through other Managed Account services in which the client invests.

AEIS receives payments for the cost-reimbursement services it provides to the Full Participation Firms (including CMIA) and to other funds available for sale at Ameriprise Financial Services. The amount of any fees AEIS receives from funds eligible for inclusion on the Starting Point List is not considered in the selection process for inclusion on the Starting Point List, and no fund pays AEIS to be on the Starting Point List. Clients may choose to follow the recommendations provided by the Ameriprise financial advisor or may select from any of the other funds offered through Ameriprise Financial Services, regardless of whether that fund appears on the Starting Point List.
IRG as Portfolio Strategist
Where the IRG acts as a portfolio strategist for Active Opportunity Portfolios® and certain Select Separate Account investments, such investments generally consist of, and the IRG therefore prefers, funds from Full Participation Firms. If a suitable investment cannot be found within the Full Participation Firms offering, the IRG will proceed to look for investment options within nonparticipating firms. This may present a conflict of interest as Full Participation Firms pay AEIS more revenue than nonparticipating firms in the event IRG selects a mutual fund from a Full Participation Firm. CMIA is a Full Participation Firm. The amount of any fees AEIS receives from Full Participation Firms is not considered in the investment selection process, and no fund pays AEIS to be included as an investment option.

Revenue sources for Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc.

Financial planning and advisory service fees. These are fees you pay for financial planning and fee-based investment advisory account services, respectively.

Ameriprise brokerage account sales charges. Sales charges, commissions and/or selling concessions are paid when you buy or sell equities and fixed income products including corporate bonds and municipal securities, mutual funds, 529 Plans, stocks and bonds, closed-end funds, preferred securities, UITs, non-traded REITs, non-traded BDCs, non-traded closed-end funds, hedge fund offerings, exchange funds, private equity offerings, managed futures funds, real estate private placement offerings and structured products. In addition, you may pay a markup or markdown in bond transactions executed on a principal capacity with AEIS. These charges vary by product and product type. For example, with respect to mutual funds, the sales charge for a stock mutual fund is typically greater than that for a bond mutual fund. For other product types, such as non-traded REITs, the sales charge you pay may also include a portion of the distribution, organization and offering fees and expenses.

Periodic fees. Periodic fees include IRA custodial fees, brokerage fees (e.g., account maintenance and order-handling fees), and a portion of the fees associated with certain banking products and services (e.g., personal trust services).

Ameriprise Financial Services offers programs that may result in reimbursement to client accounts for certain periodic fees. These programs do not apply to Managed Accounts. In our client loyalty program, Ameriprise Achiever Circle, participants are eligible for reimbursement of certain fees. In another program available for Ameriprise brokerage clients, Ameriprise financial advisors may receive funds from Ameriprise Financial Services based on a financial advisor’s prior-year compensation and use the funds to reimburse client brokerage accounts for periodic fees. Not all financial advisors participate in the latter program, and it is possible that not all fees may be reimbursed.

Sales charges, trading commissions, markups, markdowns, and financial planning and advisory services fees are not eligible for reimbursement or offered at a discount.

Periodic expenses. Periodic expenses are paid from product assets, such as 12b-1 shareholder servicing fees paid from mutual fund assets (including 12b-1 fees paid on certain funds that serve as underlying investment options for 529 plan assets) and distribution fees paid from Ameriprise Certificate assets. The 12b-1 shareholder servicing fees assessed in Ameriprise brokerage accounts may be used to pay for marketing, distribution and shareholder service expenses. Any 12b-1 shareholder servicing fees received for Non-Advisory Share classes in any Managed Accounts will be rebated to clients.

Interest. If you request a margin account, AEIS charges you interest on your margin balance.

Ameriprise Financial Services may refer clients to certain third-party lenders for extension of credit secured by assets held in their Ameriprise Financial Services accounts. We will receive compensation from these lenders based on the amount of credit extended to our clients.

Ameriprise Financial Services receives compensation when you open a credit card account with certain financial institutions and for certain transactions in that account. We also receive compensation for promoting these credit cards and are reimbursed for expenses related to rewards programs.

Payments from managed futures fund sponsors. Ameriprise Financial Services receives selling commissions for the sale of managed futures funds.

Payments from exchange fund sponsors. Ameriprise Financial Services may receive a fee of up to 1% of the value of the exchange fund shares purchased.

Payments from non-traded closed-end fund sponsors. Ameriprise Financial Services receives selling commissions for the sale of non-traded closed-end funds. Ameriprise Financial Services may receive fees of up to 6.0% of the amount invested.
Payments for referrals to structured settlements agents. Ameriprise Financial Services receives a fee, shared with financial advisors, for referrals to nonaffiliated structured settlement professionals for both client and non-client referrals. The amount and basis for the referral fee varies by relationship multiplied by the notional sales amount of the product.

Underwriters’ compensation. Ameriprise Financial Services receives a fee comprised of a selling concession, management fee, underwriting fee, and, in some cases, a structuring fee for the sale of initial public offerings (“IPOs”), such as closed-end funds and preferred securities. The specific amounts vary by individual offering and are disclosed in the prospectus.

Transaction charges. Ameriprise Financial Services does not assess online-transactions charge in Managed Accounts to financial advisors. Franchisee financial advisors are assessed a transaction charge if entering an order by phone for SPS Advantage or SPS Advisor accounts. For employee financial advisors, this transaction charge is assessed to the employee’s branch. Payment of phone-in transaction charges may be a disincentive for a financial advisor to recommend an SPS Advantage or SPS Advisor account or to recommend trades in the account(s).

Ameriprise financial advisors pay the same mutual fund transaction rate for orders entered by phone for all mutual fund firms, except American Funds. Ameriprise financial advisors pay significantly higher transaction charges (up to $85 per transaction) on mutual fund purchases of American Funds, and no other financial arrangement is available to us that would decrease or eliminate this charge. Neither Ameriprise Financial nor its affiliates receive cost-reimbursement payments for American Funds. This higher transaction charge may be a disincentive for financial advisors to recommend American Funds.

Not all mutual fund families, including American Funds, are available for purchase in a Managed Account. For more information about payments and potential conflicts of interest, please see the applicable prospectus, term sheet, application or other client disclosure forms.

Financial interest in products. Ameriprise Financial Services has a financial interest in the sales of proprietary products that are manufactured by its affiliates. Ameriprise Financial Services and its affiliates receive more revenue from the sale of some financial products and services, particularly those products and services sold under the Ameriprise, Columbia Threadneedle Investments and RiverSource brands, than for the sale of other products and services.

Generally, Ameriprise Financial Services receives more revenue for securities or products sold in a fee-based account than for those sold with only a sales charge or commission. Higher revenue generally results in greater profitability for Ameriprise Financial Services. Employee compensation (including management and field-leader compensation) and operating goals at all levels of the company are tied to the company’s success. Management, sales leaders and other employees generally spend more of their time and resources promoting Ameriprise, Columbia Threadneedle Investments and RiverSource branded products and services.

Both Ameriprise Financial Services and individual financial advisors are compensated when clients buy mutual funds through Ameriprise Financial Services. Generally, financial advisors receive a portion of the sales charge and 12b-1 fees paid to the firm in connection with mutual fund purchases in brokerage accounts for as long as clients own the mutual fund shares. Sales charges and 12b-1 fees vary from mutual fund to mutual fund and from class to class. Ameriprise Financial Services and the financial advisor receive more compensation on fund or share classes that pay higher fees. Any 12b-1 fees received by Ameriprise Financial Services for mutual funds held in any Managed Accounts will be rebated to clients, and financial advisors do not receive compensation from 12b-1 fees assessed on mutual funds held in Managed Accounts.

Ameriprise Financial Services and the financial advisor generally receive less compensation when the sales charge and/or 12b-1 fee is reduced, waived completely, or where there is no sales charge or 12b-1 fee. Therefore, for brokerage accounts there is an incentive for our financial advisors to sell a fund that pays a load or a fund that pays a 12b-1 fee over funds that do not. Ameriprise Financial Services and Ameriprise financial advisors are paid in different ways for helping you choose mutual funds, depending on the type of fund, amount invested and share class purchased. Financial advisors receive compensation on 12b-1 fees for mutual funds in brokerage transactions only. Ameriprise Financial Services and financial advisors receive more compensation for sales of certain types of products, such as insurance, rather than others.

Economic benefits of affiliates’ products and services

As with all financial services firms, a portion of our revenue and compensation can generate a profit for the firm. The revenue and compensation we receive helps us cover our expenses in providing and servicing these products and services. Employee and financial advisor compensation and operating goals at all levels of Ameriprise Financial, Inc. are tied to the success of its businesses. As a result, certain incentives and conflicts of interest may exist for Ameriprise Financial Services, our affiliates and our financial advisors if you purchase certain products or services recommended by your financial advisor.

Generally, among other things, Ameriprise Financial Services and our affiliates will receive:

- More revenue, in aggregate, from the purchase of products sponsored or managed by Ameriprise, Columbia Management and RiverSource (“proprietary products”) than from the purchase of products sponsored or managed by firms that aren’t affiliated with Ameriprise Financial, Inc. (“nonproprietary products”). Ameriprise Financial Services actively promotes the products of our affiliates through advertising, direct mail, and training and wholesaling events.
- More revenue from the purchase of products and services than from financial advisory fees.
- More revenue as the size of any margin account balance increases.
- More revenue when you purchase certain types of products, such as insurance and annuity products and direct investments.
- More revenue from products and services that generate ongoing revenue streams, such as mutual funds that pay ongoing 12b-1 fees, an investment advisory account service, and life insurance and annuity products with mortality and expense charges.
- More revenue when you purchase shares of mutual funds or 529 Plans from Full Participation Firms or Limited Participation Firms, or other products for which we have similar financial arrangements, as described in the “Payments from product companies” subsection of this Brochure.
- Less revenue when a sales charge or commission is reduced or waived completely, or where there is no sales charge.
- More revenue when you move assets (including retirement plan accounts) from another institution to Ameriprise Financial Services or RiverSource or into a product managed by Columbia Management or another affiliate.

Generally, among other things, your financial advisor may earn:

- More depending on how your financial advisor is affiliated with Ameriprise Financial Services, as described in the “How our financial advisors get paid” section of this Brochure.
- More on the sale of certain life and disability insurance products because insurance companies pay increasing levels of compensation the more a financial advisor sells.
- More on the purchase of annuity and insurance products and direct investments, because they are more complex than are other products and take more time to service.
- More from certain sales incentive programs to increase overall assets under management.
- Less on individual purchases within a transaction-based brokerage account because of the higher transaction charges your financial advisor pays on these accounts compared to a fee-based investment advisory account.
- Less when a sales charge or commission is reduced or waived completely, or where there is no sales charge.
- Typically less when you exchange an existing annuity contract, mutual fund or insurance policy for certain like or similar products from the same company, unless you have held the existing product for a certain period of time.
- More revenue if you purchase securities on margin that you could not otherwise purchase in a cash account.
- Nominal additional compensation on the value of the assets rolled into an IRA brokerage account from a retirement account with Columbia Funds.
- A higher payout rate based on the level of product sales, on the number of financial plans sold, and on higher face/death benefit amount for certain insurance products.
- More when you move accounts (including retirement plan accounts) from another institution to Ameriprise Financial Services, CMIA or RiverSource.
- Compensation for servicing trust accounts held with the Bank.
- No compensation for the renewal of Ameriprise certificates.
Financial advisors are required to take training on certain RiverSource products prior to soliciting, including RiverSource insurance and RiverSource annuity products and a targeted subset of nonproprietary products. Additional product training on Columbia Threadneedle Investments and RiverSource branded products is available. It is likely that a product recommendation from your financial advisor will be drawn from the universe of products on which they were trained.

Ameriprise Financial Services may enter into strategic alliances with companies that offer products or services that Ameriprise Financial Services and its financial advisors do not sell. In some of those alliances, Ameriprise financial advisors may receive gifts and offers from the other companies.

Some, but not all, of the financial-planning software tools available for use by your financial advisor were developed by Ameriprise Financial Services or unaffiliated third parties and may make it more convenient for your financial advisor to select proprietary products.

Most Ameriprise financial advisors are also the appointed agents of RiverSource Life Insurance Company and, in New York only, RiverSource Life Insurance Co. of New York, affiliates of Ameriprise Financial Services. When acting as an agent for these affiliates your financial advisor’s interests may conflict with yours.

Ameriprise Financial Services grants RiverSource limited access to Ameriprise financial advisors and limited information related to Ameriprise clients to promote sales of RiverSource products and to assist financial advisors in understanding the features and benefits of those products. Ameriprise Financial Services does not grant this access to other nonaffiliated companies offering similar products.

Additionally, it is possible that Bank would send an order on behalf of a trust account to AEIS, and at the same time AEIS would execute the opposite order for one of its brokerage clients. Investments may be made for Bank’s trust accounts in which Ameriprise Financial Services or its related persons have a position or interest. Although Ameriprise Financial Services and its related persons may own securities suitable for or held by clients, in no case will holdings of Ameriprise Financial, Inc., its subsidiaries or their employees or directors be directly sold to or purchased from Bank’s trust accounts. AEIS, an affiliate of Ameriprise Financial Services, may buy or sell for its own account securities that Ameriprise Financial Services may recommend for the Bank’s trust accounts. Ameriprise Financial Services does not anticipate that conflicts of interest will arise because we have adopted policies and procedures prohibiting Ameriprise Financial Services and our related persons from engaging in trading activity that creates a conflict of interest with our clients, as discussed in the “Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Transactions and Personal Trading” section.

How our financial advisors get paid

An Ameriprise financial advisor is assigned to every investment advisory service. Ameriprise financial advisors have a wide range of business and educational backgrounds. They are required to have appropriate licenses and registrations to transact business, including Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”) registration, required state securities and insurance licenses and, where required, a state investment adviser registration.

Many financial advisors hold advanced academic degrees and/or professional designations, including the Certified Financial Planner™ certification. In addition, ongoing training is available to financial advisors.

For additional important information about an advisor check FINRA BrokerCheck at finra.org/brokercheck or call 1.800.289.9999.

Your financial advisor earns a living by providing you with financial advice and product recommendations to suit your goals. To understand how your financial advisor gets paid, you should first know that there are three ways Ameriprise financial advisors can be affiliated with us.

• Independent contractor franchisees. These financial advisors are not employed by Ameriprise Financial Services, and they do not receive a salary from us.

• Employee financial advisors. These financial advisors are employed by Ameriprise Financial Services.

• Associate financial advisors. These financial advisors are employed by or contract with the independent contractor franchisees, and they do not receive a salary from us.
All Ameriprise financial advisors are licensed registered representatives. Depending on the affiliation, our financial advisors are compensated differently. Financial advisors may choose to change how they are affiliated with Ameriprise Financial Services over time.

Salary
In addition to the fees described below, employee financial advisors may receive a salary or wage from Ameriprise Financial Services. Associate financial advisors may receive either a salary or a flat fee from the independent contractor franchisee for whom they work. Employee financial advisors may also have the potential to receive bonus compensation.

Commissions and referral fees
A portion of the financial planning service and advisory service fees may be paid to your financial advisor for introducing you to the service, gathering the information necessary to prepare your service, helping you establish needs and goals, preparing and presenting your service, and/or providing financial advice on behalf of Ameriprise Financial Services.

The remaining portion of the fees goes to Ameriprise Financial Services for the supervisory, technical, administrative and other support that is provided to all financial advisors. The portion of fees retained by Ameriprise Financial Services differs by type of Managed Account program. Within the Select Separate Account and Vista Separate Account Programs the portion of fees retained also varies, depending on the Investment Manager and investment strategy you select. As a result, Ameriprise financial advisors receive a larger portion of the Wrap Fee from certain types of Managed Account Programs, and within the Select Separate Account and Vista Separate Account services, more for certain Investment Managers and investment strategies. This may create an incentive for your financial advisor to recommend the one Managed Account Service over another or a particular Investment Manager and investment strategy over another. Additionally, sales charges you pay on the products and services you purchase, as well as a portion of the fees you pay for Bank services, may be paid to Ameriprise Financial Services in the form of financial advisor fees. The amount paid to your financial advisor depends on the payout rate your financial advisor qualifies for and the amount of fees you pay.

- Independent contractor franchisees generally receive 72% to 91% and employee financial advisors generally receive 0% to 50% of the advisory service fees and product commissions we receive (the “advisor payout rate”). In addition, the financial advisor may qualify for a bonus, which could increase the effective advisor payout rate up to 96% for independent contractor franchisees or 57% for employee financial advisors, respectively.

- In general, commission and referral fees generated by an associate financial advisor are paid to the employing or contracting independent contractor franchisee. At the discretion of the employing or contracting independent contractor franchisee, the associate advisor may receive commissions, or financial advisory or referral fees and a bonus.

The compensation programs for our financial advisors may vary based on, among other factors, the financial advisor’s industry experience, tenure with Ameriprise Financial Services, and whether the financial advisor was formerly associated with a firm acquired by Ameriprise Financial, Inc.

Ameriprise Financial Services offers a vast range of investment solutions to clients. Some products and services may be offered only by certain Ameriprise financial advisors. Discuss with your financial advisor the products he or she offers and the compensation your financial advisor receives as some investment product companies and issuers, including RiverSource, may pay higher compensation than others.

Our financial advisors primarily offer life, disability, and long-term care insurance and annuity products from RiverSource and certain preapproved, but unaffiliated, insurance companies. However, in some situations where the client’s needs may be met more effectively by another company’s product, and RiverSource and other preapproved providers do not offer such a product, Ameriprise financial advisors may offer insurance products issued by unaffiliated insurance companies.

If a nonproprietary insurance product is offered, the financial advisor is an appointed agent of the insurer and receives, directly or indirectly, compensation from the insurer for the sale and service of that product. The compensation for these nonproprietary products and RiverSource products is separate from, and in addition to, any fee you pay for investment advisory services and may vary depending on the type and size of the life insurance or annuity product that you purchase, the insurer that issues the product, the total number of life insurance and annuity products sold by the financial advisor for that insurer, and other factors. This compensation typically will increase as the size of the insurance policy or annuity contract increases, or the amount of the payments that you make on the life insurance or annuity product increases. Generally speaking, the compensation that the financial advisor will receive is calculated by a formula. This compensation may also increase as the financial advisor sells increasing amounts of life insurance or annuity products issued by that insurer.

In instances where a customer already owns a financial product sold by Ameriprise Financial Services, the amount of a financial advisor’s compensation may vary in connection with the sale of an additional or replacement product, due to formulas relating to the cancellation of a product that is already owned. As a result, the financial advisor in such a transaction may have an incentive to recommend the purchase of additional or replacement insurance or annuity products or, conversely, an incentive to recommend that you not purchase additional or replacement insurance or annuity products, depending on the relevant compensation formula.

Your financial advisor may receive compensation for the marketing of and your opening of a credit card account with nonaffiliated financial institutions.

Your financial advisor may also receive referral fees and client management fees when you purchase and maintain Ameriprise Auto and Home insurance products.

Incentives, training and education

Product companies with which we have agreements work with Ameriprise Financial Services and our financial advisors to promote their products. They may pay for training and education events; prospecting events, such as seminars for employees, financial advisors, clients and prospective clients; or due-diligence meetings. For employees and financial advisors, these events may be held at off-site locations, and the travel, meals and accommodations may be paid for by the product company. Additionally, product companies may occasionally provide business or recreational entertainment or gifts of nominal value to employees and financial advisors.

Ameriprise Financial Services or sales leaders may, from time to time, offer contests or incentive programs to individual financial advisors or groups of financial advisors in particular areas. These contests and programs are limited to such targets as new client acquisition, financial plan count, net flows and financial advisor recruits. The contests and programs are prohibited from incenting on any non-insurance product sales. These programs and incentives and the receipt of other cash/noncash compensation are subject to SEC and FINRA regulations as well as Ameriprise Financial Services’ internal compliance policies.

Consistent with industry practice, Ameriprise Financial Services from time to time recruits financial advisors from other firms to join Ameriprise Financial Services. In connection with these recruiting efforts, Ameriprise Financial Services may compensate financial advisors or loan these financial advisors money to facilitate their transition to Ameriprise Financial Services. The funds may be payable immediately, over time, as a bonus, and/or as a loan. For financial advisors hired and who entered into these arrangements prior to 2017, these arrangements may have been structured to include a provision requiring that payment of transition funds or loans would be dependent upon the advisor meeting certain agreed-upon production and/or asset-level benchmarks. The financial incentives associated with these transition arrangements could influence the type and quantity of product and/or service recommended by your financial advisor. Please ask your financial advisor if you have any questions about whether these transition arrangements apply to them.

From time to time, Ameriprise Financial Services also provides compensation to financial advisors in connection with the sale of all or a portion of their client base to an Ameriprise financial advisor. Some of this compensation may be dependent on a certain percentage of the client base remaining as clients of Ameriprise Financial Services for a certain period of time. If your financial advisor is selling all or a portion of their practice to another Ameriprise financial advisor, this program could incent your financial advisor to recommend you remain a client of Ameriprise Financial Services.

Ameriprise Financial, Inc. equity programs

We encourage our financial advisors to take an ownership stake in our future by holding stock in our parent company, Ameriprise Financial, Inc. (NYSE: AMP). To make this possible for financial advisors, we have created equity compensation programs for them. Employee financial advisors and independent contractor franchisees may be eligible to receive an annual stock bonus. In addition, independent contractor franchisees may be eligible to defer a certain percentage of their compensation each year. They may choose to invest all or portion of this deferral into a notional account that tracks the performance of Ameriprise Financial, Inc. stock.
Financial advisors who are independent contractor franchisees may build equity in their practices and may receive payments if they sell all or a part of their practices to other Ameriprise financial advisors.

Loan programs
As a limited-purpose national trust bank offering trust products and services to clients, the Bank does not originate mortgages or offer any other loan products or services.

However, clients may have access to information about lending products and services (e.g., mortgages, home-equity loans, home-equity lines of credit) through marketing relationships with third-party financial institutions. Financial advisors do not earn compensation related to lending products offered by third-party providers that have a marketing relationship with Ameriprise Financial. With limited exceptions, neither your Ameriprise financial advisor nor Ameriprise Financial Services may arrange, promote, suggest or knowingly permit you to use loan proceeds to purchase securities or other investment products.

Advisor-to-advisor training programs
Ameriprise Financial Services or its affiliates may also pay its financial advisors for training other financial advisors on specific products and services that we offer. A portion of this payment may be based on incremental sales of these products and services sold by the financial advisor receiving the training.

Shared compensation
Financial advisors may also choose to work together as a team that shares fees and commissions from products and services you purchase. The cost of the product or service you purchase is not affected by the fact that your financial advisor is a member of a team or by the fact that the fee or commission may be split. Your financial advisor may be allowed to share a portion of the investment advisory fee he or she receives with one or more other Ameriprise financial advisor(s), including financial advisors who have not completed the Ameriprise Financial Services-required training to sell the investment advisory service ("training"), franchise consultants or registered principals, as described below.

In cases where two financial advisors are assisting you, both financial advisors may share in the Wrap Fee. Your servicing financial advisor will present the Managed Account or AFPS, set the Wrap Fee, and oversee the analysis and advice prepared for you. Your servicing advisor may or may not be the financial advisor authorized to use discretion to purchase and sell securities in your account, e.g., your SPS Discretionary Advisor. In the instance that your servicing advisor is not authorized to use discretion, the financial advisor authorized to use discretion will oversee the analysis and advice prepared for you. Only the financial advisor authorized to use discretion will purchase and sell securities in your Account.

Your servicing advisor may or may not be the financial advisor who has completed the training. A financial advisor who has not completed the training may refer a client to a financial advisor who has completed the training for the service or product. The financial advisor who has completed the training may pay a fee to the financial advisor who has not completed the training for that referral. The financial advisor who has not completed the training may provide investment advisory services for services and products that do not require training; however, only the financial advisor who has completed the training required for a particular service or product will provide the analysis and advice prepared for you with respect to a service or product that requires the training. The financial advisor who has not completed the training may receive a share of the commission from any services or products sold to you by your financial advisor who has completed the required training.

Your financial advisor may work with a franchise consultant who is registered with Ameriprise Financial Services. In those situations, the franchise consultant may receive compensation based on services and products that you purchase, and for the training and leadership of your financial advisor. The cost of the product or service you purchase is not affected.

Your financial advisor may employ staff or work with other Ameriprise Financial Services staff to assist with creating your financial-planning recommendations. This may include leveraging services in geographic locations outside of your financial advisor's location, including international locations.

Services provided may include entering data into financial-planning software, proving initial calculation and assistance in creating solutions. Your financial advisor will provide final recommendations to you. For these services your financial advisor may pay a fee or salary to employed staff.

Financial advisors and field leaders may share compensation with their registered support assistants or recommend bonuses for their nonregistered support staff.
Employee financial advisors and selling leaders may receive continuing commissions for the sale of certain products for up to five years after leaving the securities industry.

Ameriprise offers a Business Development Account (BDA) Program. Eligible employee advisors may create a voluntary BDA in a predetermined amount and use this account for business-related expenses above and beyond what the company provides or request bonuses for nonregistered staff.

For clients without a financial advisor
Certain products can be purchased through the Ameriprise Financial Services online brokerage site without the aid of a financial advisor. If you do not work with a financial advisor, Ameriprise Financial Services keeps the full amount of any fees paid to us in connection with your transaction. These fees are used in part to pay other employees and to pay for the technology that supports the services we provide you.

Management compensation and bonus programs
Employee compensation and operating goals at all levels of the company are tied to the company’s success. All employees, directly or indirectly, may receive higher compensation and other benefits when the investment products of certain providers, particularly affiliates, are purchased. Management, sales leaders and other employees spend more of their time and resources promoting Ameriprise, Columbia Threadneedle Investments, and RiverSource branded products and services.

Field leaders receive a salary and a bonus and are responsible for an operating budget for expenses. Bonus programs for Ameriprise Financial Services field leaders are designed to include an amount based on the aggregate sales of all products sold by financial advisors, including proprietary products, in the regions of the country those leaders are responsible for overseeing. The bonus incentive and expense programs present a potential conflict because they are based in part on sales of these products.

Code of ethics, participation or interest in transactions and personal trading
Code of ethics
As part of an overall internal compliance program, Ameriprise Financial Services has adopted policies and procedures imposing certain conditions and restrictions on transactions for the account of Ameriprise Financial Services and the accounts of our employees. Such policies and procedures are designed to prevent, among other things, any improper or abusive conduct when potential conflicts of interest may exist with respect to a customer or client. In addition, from time to time, restrictions are imposed to address the potential for self-dealing and conflicts of interest that may arise in connection with the business of Ameriprise Financial Services as a broker-dealer. Ameriprise Financial Services has adopted various procedures to guard against insider trading.

Participation or interest in client transactions
From time to time Ameriprise Financial Services and/or its affiliates and related persons may invest in the same or related securities that Ameriprise Financial Services and/or its affiliates recommend to clients. Such transactions may occur at or about the same time that such securities are bought or sold for client accounts. Ameriprise Financial Services has adopted policies and procedures imposing certain conditions and restrictions on transactions in these securities, such as trading blackout periods and preclearance requirements.

See the “Financial interest in products” subsection in the “Revenue sources for Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc.” section in this Disclosure Brochure for more information about our financial interest in the sale of certain products and services.

Personal trading rules and procedures
Ameriprise Financial Services has adopted personal trading rules and procedures within the Ameriprise Personal Trading Policy. These rules are designed to state standards of business conduct and to mitigate potential conflicts of interest for all persons of Ameriprise Financial Services when they engage in personal securities transactions.

The standards of business conduct include compliance with applicable laws and regulations and with policies and procedures, such as those contained in the Ameriprise Global Code of Conduct. Under the personal trading rules, persons are required to report their personal securities holdings and transactions, including transactions in certain mutual funds; must preclear certain investments; are restricted with respect to the timing of certain investments; and are prohibited from making certain investments. In addition, the Personal Trading Policy requires (i) Ameriprise employee financial advisors and their employees, (ii) its independent contractor franchisee financial advisors and their employees, and (iii) its affiliated investment advisers to conduct most personal trades through one of three designated broker-dealers, unless an exception has been granted, and report any changes in their selected broker-dealer.
Insider trading policy
Ameriprise Financial Services and its related persons may, from time to time, come into possession of material nonpublic information that, if disclosed, might affect an investor's decision to buy, sell or hold a security.

Under applicable law, Ameriprise Financial Services and its related persons are prohibited from improperly disclosing or using such information for their personal benefit or for the benefit of any other person, regardless of whether such other person is a client. Accordingly, should Ameriprise Financial Services or its related persons come into possession of material nonpublic information with respect to any company, they may be prohibited from communicating such information to, or using such information for the benefit of, their respective clients, and have no obligation or responsibility to disclose such information to, nor responsibility to use such information for the benefit of, their clients when following policies and procedures designed to comply with law. Ameriprise Financial Services and its affiliates have adopted an “Insider Trading Policy” in accordance with Section 204A of the Advisers Act that establishes procedures to prevent the misuse of material nonpublic information by Ameriprise Financial Services and its associated persons.

Brokerage practices
Ameriprise Financial Services does not receive research or other products or services from any broker-dealer or third party other than execution for client securities transactions, nor do we or our affiliates receive client referrals from broker-dealers or third parties.

Retail brokerage services are made available through Ameriprise Financial Services. Ameriprise Financial Services and AEIS have an agreement in which Ameriprise Financial Services introduces customer accounts to AEIS on a fully disclosed basis. AEIS serves as Ameriprise Financial Services’ clearing agent in providing clearing, custody and settlement services for transactions that are executed for customers of Ameriprise Financial Services. Ameriprise Financial Services approves and opens accounts and accepts securities order instructions with respect to the accounts. In exchange for a fee paid by Ameriprise Financial Services, AEIS provides record keeping, custody and all clearing functions for accounts introduced by Ameriprise Financial Services.

Additionally, under certain circumstances, when AEIS deems a transaction to be in the best interests of you and other clients, and to the extent permitted by applicable law and regulation, AEIS is permitted to aggregate multiple client orders to obtain what AEIS believes will be the most favorable price and/or lower execution costs at the time of execution.

See the “Broker-dealer” subsection in the “Other financial industry activities and affiliations” section of the Ameriprise Managed Accounts and Financial Planning Services Combined Disclosure Brochure (Form ADV Part II) on ameriprise.com/disclosures for more information about the brokerage business of Ameriprise Financial Services and its affiliates.

Review of Accounts
Certain supervisory functions are performed by Ameriprise Financial Services corporate office personnel. Corporate registered principals review a sampling of each financial advisor’s financial planning relationships, including written financial planning recommendations periodically based on certain key factors. Our Compliance department also conducts routine surveillance of financial advisor activities. Clients receive written reports relating to their financial planning relationships from their financial advisor on at least an annual basis.

Client referrals and other compensation

Referral arrangements and other economic benefits
Ameriprise Financial Services maintains formal and informal arrangements, the terms of which are disclosed to the client, with individual professionals, professional firms, and select corporate, institutional or membership organizations (“Solicitors”), wherein compensation is paid to those Solicitors for referral of clients or members to Ameriprise Financial Services for its financial advisory services. The compensation to be paid in connection with these agreements is subject to negotiation between Ameriprise Financial Services and the applicable Solicitor. The compensation (i) is disclosed to the client at the time of the solicitation or referral; and (ii) will be paid out of the total advisory fees collected from you. You will not be charged an additional fee as a result of any referral arrangements. Compensation may include a one-time payment or ongoing payments based on a negotiated percentage of the quarterly investment advisory fees paid by you for the duration of the investment advisory relationship. These arrangements are not the same arrangements discussed in the “Brokerage practices” section above.
Ameriprise Financial Services may also make informal arrangements with individual clients wherein compensation is paid to those clients for referral of other individuals to Ameriprise Financial Services for financial advisory services.

Ameriprise Financial Services may form alliances and networking arrangements with financial institutions such as community banks, credit unions, credit union service organizations and Farm Credit Services (“Third-Party Financial Institutions”) to allow its financial advisors to offer financial-planning services and certain other nondeposit investment and insurance products and services, described elsewhere in this Brochure, to retail customers/members of the Third-Party Financial Institutions. As a result of these alliances or networking arrangements, financial advisors may not be able to offer to retail customers/members of the Third-Party Financial Institutions certain products available through Ameriprise Financial Services or its affiliates. Also as a result of these alliances or networking arrangements, Third-Party Financial Institutions may receive, in the form of networking payment, a portion of advisory fees and nonpublic information provided by the issuer. Ameriprise Financial Services periodically reassesses, but does not continuously monitor, the creditworthiness or financial solvency of third-party issuers. These policies and procedures are reasonably designed to mitigate our clients’ exposure to credit and default risks resulting from an inability of the issuer to repay the principal on a note or fulfill an insurance obligation. However, you should be advised that credit markets can be volatile and the creditworthiness of an issuer may change rapidly. Ameriprise Financial Services, as a seller of these products, is prohibited by regulation from guaranteeing or providing any assurance that an issuer of financial products will be able to fulfill the issuer’s obligation to any purchaser of such a product through Ameriprise Financial Services.

Review of issuers of financial products

Ameriprise Financial Services and its affiliates have policies and procedures in place to review the issuers of financial products such as nontraded REITs, nontraded BDCs, nontraded closed-end funds, structured notes, and annuity and life insurance products that Ameriprise Financial Services permits its financial advisors to offer to some or all of its clients. This review includes publicly available information and reports issued by third parties and may in some cases include certain nonpublic information provided by the issuer. Ameriprise Financial Services periodically reassesses, but does not continuously monitor, the creditworthiness or financial solvency of third-party issuers. These policies and procedures are reasonably designed to mitigate our clients’ exposure to credit and default risks resulting from an inability of the issuer to repay the principal on a note or fulfill an insurance obligation. However, you should be advised that credit markets can be volatile and the creditworthiness of an issuer may change rapidly. Ameriprise Financial Services, as a seller of these products, is prohibited by regulation from guaranteeing or providing any assurance that an issuer of financial products will be able to fulfill the issuer’s obligation to any purchaser of such a product through Ameriprise Financial Services.

Revenue sources for RiverSource

Life Insurance Company and, in New York only, RiverSource Life Insurance Co. of New York (collectively “RiverSource”)

Sales charges. You pay sales and other charges under RiverSource fixed and variable annuity contracts and life insurance policies. For RiverSource fixed and variable annuity contracts, you may pay a contingent deferred sales charge, or surrender charge, if you withdraw funds during the applicable period.

Periodic fees and expenses. You pay certain fees and expenses under RiverSource annuity contracts and life insurance policies, including (depending on the type of contract or policy) mortality and expense, administrative, policy, contract, and cost of insurance fees or charges, in addition to costs associated with certain riders that may be available for both fixed and variable products.

Periodic expenses are also paid from product assets, such as 12b-1 fees paid from mutual fund assets (including 12b-1 fees paid on certain funds that serve as underlying investment options for variable annuities and variable life insurance). 12b-1 fees may be used to pay for marketing, distribution and shareholder service expenses.

Investment and interest income. Investment and interest income from insurance company general account assets derived, in part, from the amounts you pay for insurance and annuity benefits.

Variable annuity and variable life insurance financial arrangements. RiverSource selects the funds available within your variable annuity contract or variable life insurance policy. In doing so, RiverSource may consider various objective and subjective factors. These factors include compensation RiverSource may receive from fund assets (for those funds with 12b-1 plans); assets of the fund’s adviser, subadviser or an affiliate of either; and assets of the fund’s distributor or an affiliate. This compensation benefits RiverSource.

The amount of this revenue varies by fund, may be significant and may create potential conflicts of interest for RiverSource and persons selling the contracts. The greatest amount and percentage of revenue that RiverSource receives comes from assets allocated to subaccounts investing in funds managed by its affiliates, CMIA, LLC, and Columbia Wanger Asset Management, LLC. In general, the revenue directly related to assets under management that RiverSource receives currently ranges up to 0.64% of the average daily net assets invested in the underlying funds through the variable annuity or variable life insurance contracts.
RiverSource issues. This revenue is in addition to revenues RiverSource receives from the charges you pay when buying, owning or surrendering your variable annuity contract or life insurance policy. In accordance with applicable laws, regulations and the terms of the agreements under which such revenue is paid, RiverSource may receive this compensation for various purposes — including financial advisor training and compensation, marketing and distribution, customer servicing, transaction processing, record keeping, and other administrative services.

Revenue sources for Columbia Management and Threadneedle

Periodic fees and expenses. CMIA and Threadneedle International Limited may receive mutual fund management fees and certificate advisory and services fees for services, including investment management services for Active Portfolios® investments. These revenues may be received by Columbia Management from the Columbia Funds, Ameriprise certificates and from other affiliated and nonaffiliated advisory clients of Columbia Management and Threadneedle International Limited.

Revenue sources for other Ameriprise Financial, Inc. companies

There are a number of other Ameriprise Financial, Inc. companies that will receive revenue from the charges and fees you pay, including the following:

- Ameriprise Certificate Company receives investment spread income earned on, and any early withdrawal penalty related to, Ameriprise certificates.
- Columbia Management Investment Services Corp. receives certain fees and expenses paid from the Columbia Funds and Ameriprise certificates in exchange for the transfer agent services it provides.
- American Enterprise Investment Services Inc. (“AEIS”) is compensated for its services through the brokerage commission and other fees charged for each brokerage transaction, which may include transactions made in a Bank trust account, or through the brokerage commission that is included in the overall asset-based fee, depending on the account option you select. Additionally, AEIS receives compensation in the form of fees paid to it by the participating banks in the AIMMA bank sweep program, interest charged on your margin account balance, and order handling fees. In transaction-based brokerage accounts, AEIS may also engage in principal trading of certain types of fixed income securities for brokerage accounts — that is, it may buy and sell these securities for its own account with the objective of making a profit. In certain circumstances, AEIS may buy these securities from you or sell these securities to you on a principal basis, in which case you will pay a markup or markdown on the transaction.
- AEIS performs, for the benefit of Ameriprise Financial Services, its financial advisors and clients, cost reimbursement and marketing support services as described in the “Cost reimbursement and marketing support” section. In recognition of the above, product sponsors will compensate AEIS for such services that are performed by AEIS.
- The capacity in which AEIS acts in any particular transaction is disclosed on each transaction confirmation you receive. AEIS is also compensated for the shareholder services it provides for certain mutual fund companies. These services include but are not limited to delivering shareholder communications — such as updated prospectuses and statements of additional information, transaction confirmations and annual tax reporting, and monitoring compliance with share class, discounted sales charge, market timing and other mutual fund company policies.
- Ameriprise Financial, Inc. receives fees paid from Columbia and the Columbia Funds and Ameriprise certificates in exchange for the administrative services it provides.
- Columbia Management Investment Distributors, Inc. receives fees paid from the Columbia Funds in exchange for the distribution services it provides. Ameriprise Financial Services has a financial interest in the sale of the Columbia Funds Ameriprise certificates and RiverSource products and certain other mutual funds.
- Ameriprise Financial Services sells annuity and insurance products manufactured by its RiverSource affiliates, as well as products from nonproprietary providers. RiverSource is permitted to reimburse Ameriprise Financial Services for client/prospect education events and advisor sales meetings, seminars, and training events pertaining to annuity and insurance products, consistent with Ameriprise Financial Services policies and industry regulation; Ameriprise Financial Services may also receive nominal noncash benefits from time to time. Nonproprietary annuity and life insurance providers may not provide some services, or the same level of services, to Ameriprise financial advisors. As a result, Ameriprise financial advisors may have a greater familiarity with RiverSource annuity and insurance products.

- Ameriprise National Trust Bank earns compensation, depending on the terms of trust documentation and applicable state laws governing trust administration, through either a traditional trust model or an open architecture model. In the traditional trust model, pursuant to which personal trust services provide investment management and also assume all administrative responsibility, personal trust services earn fee income and pays a portion of the fee they collect to Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. In the open architecture model, personal trust services fees for administrative services are separate from investment management fees charged earned by financial advisors and are not shared with Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc.

Custody

In establishing an Account, you establish and maintain a brokerage account with Sponsor. Neither Sponsor nor any Discretionary Manager will act as custodian for the Account or take possession of any assets in the Account. AEIS, one of our broker-dealer affiliates, provides custody and safekeeping services for Account assets and will ordinarily act as the custodian for all assets held in an Account. Because our affiliate maintains custody of our clients’ assets, we are required by SEC rules and regulations to obtain from AEIS at least annually a written internal control report (“ICR”) prepared by a qualified independent public accountant, and AEIS is required to undergo an independent verification of the assets under its control. The ICR that we receive from AEIS is intended to show that our affiliate has established appropriate custodial controls with respect to client assets under custody. For Retirement Accounts where Ameriprise Trust Company acts as custodian or trustee, AEIS shall act as an agent or subcustodian of Ameriprise Trust Company with respect to custody of assets.

Investment discretion

Your Ameriprise financial advisor does not manage your securities or other investments on your behalf as part of AFPS. However, your financial advisor may offer a discretionary investment advisory service separately as part of our SPS Advisor service.

Voting client securities

For SPS Advantage, SPS Advisor and Active Portfolios®, Ameriprise Financial Services and your financial advisor are not required to take any action or give any advice regarding the voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to the issuers of securities in which assets of your managed account(s) may be invested.

For a Select Separate Account — including Select Strategist UMA, Vista Separate Account, Investor Unified Account and Access Account — you have the right to vote proxies on the securities in which your account assets may be invested from time to time, or you may delegate the authority to vote these proxies to the applicable Investment Manager where Sponsor has trading discretion over the assets in your Account, or you may delegate the authority to vote proxies on your behalf to another person. Except for certain Select Separate Accounts where you delegate proxy voting authority to Sponsor and the Investment Manager allows Sponsor to vote proxies for the Account(s), Sponsor and your financial advisor do not take any action or give advice regarding the voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to the issuers of securities in which assets of your Managed Account(s) may be invested. Sponsor will forward to you all proxy solicitations and materials related to other corporate actions that are received by Sponsor with respect to assets in your Managed Account(s). You are responsible for voting proxies and effectuating other corporate actions relating to the securities held in your respective Managed Account(s).

Neither Sponsor, your financial advisor nor any Discretionary Manager are responsible for any other corporate actions relating to the assets in your Managed Account(s), including administrative filings such as proofs of claims related to bankruptcy or claims in class actions.

Sponsor’s proxy voting policies and procedures. When Sponsor has proxy voting authority, Sponsor will apply the following general principles to meet its proxy voting responsibilities:

- Seek to ensure that proxies are voted in the best economic interest of clients;
- Address material conflicts of interest that may arise; and
- Comply with disclosure and other requirements as required by law.

Sponsor intends to vote all proxies of which it becomes aware prior to the vote deadline. However, in certain limited circumstances, Sponsor may determine to refrain from voting.

Sponsor will use an independent, third-party proxy service for its fundamental research on proxy questions and subsequent recommendations, and has adopted the third-party provider’s proxy voting guidelines covering... certain types of proposals. The guidelines indicate whether to vote for, against or abstain from a particular proposal. In circumstances where proposals are not covered by the guidelines or a voting determination must be made on a case-by-case basis, the Investment Committee will make the voting determination. The Investment Committee may consider the voting recommendations of analysts, Investment Managers and information obtained from outside resources. The Investment Committee reserves the right to consider each proxy vote, whether covered by the guidelines or a third-party recommendation, based on the facts and circumstances of the proposal presented, and submit a vote that it believes is in the best economic interest of its clients.

Sponsor has implemented policies reasonably designed to identify potential material conflicts of interest to help us vote proxies without undue influence from individuals or groups who may have an economic interest in the outcome of a proxy vote. These policies include:

- Employing predetermined voting guidelines;
- Causing proxies to be voted in accordance with recommendations of an independent third party;
- Causing the proxies to be delegated to an independent third party, which may include Sponsor’s proxy voting service provider; or
- In unusual cases, with the client’s consent and upon ample notice, forwarding the proxies to Sponsor’s clients so that they may vote the proxies directly.

Each Investment Manager to which you delegate voting authority will vote proxies according to its own applicable voting policies and procedures. Where you own both a Select Separate Account and another discretionary Managed Account and both Accounts invest in the same SMA strategy managed by the same Investment Manager, this may result in different voting determinations by Sponsor and the Investment Manager for the same particular proposal.

We maintain proxy voting records to meet our obligations under applicable law. You may obtain a copy of our proxy voting policy, and other information regarding how your proxies were voted, upon request by writing to us at the address set forth on the first page of this brochure or calling the phone number that appears on that page.
The Business Continuity Management and Disaster Recovery Programs at Ameriprise Financial

Business continuity
At Ameriprise, each line of business creates business continuity plans (BCPs) designed to address their specific needs and potential risks. BCPs are updated annually or in the event of a material change. Plans are updated through a series of plan-enhancement workshops with participation from business areas and senior leadership. As part of the planning process, we conduct a business-impact analysis with each business area, which helps determine critical processes and ensures appropriate recovery strategies and capabilities are in place.

Our plans and planning strategies are based upon a proactive “all hazards” approach to preparing for disruptions of varying severity and scope, and address both short- and long-term disruptions.

We have developed multiple recovery-solution strategies that enable us to activate a single recovery solution or multiple recovery solutions based upon the event’s severity and duration. This flexible, multifaceted approach allows Ameriprise Financial to respond appropriately and effectively based on the type of event.

BCPs containing critical processes are exercised and validated annually. We validate recovery strategies, solutions and capabilities through many types of exercises, which include tabletop, functional and communication activities. Functional exercises include validating work-virtually and third-party-hosted workplace recovery solutions.

Crisis management
We maintain a robust crisis-management structure that allows for an efficient and effective response to crisis events. We have dedicated resources who proactively monitor worldwide events that may affect our employees, facilities, clients, brand and financial solvency. Training and education is provided to help prepare the firm and employees for possible business disruptions, as well as validate a response for a variety of possible incidents with key employees.

The Crisis Response Team (CRT) is part of our business continuity and crisis management program structure. It is composed of senior leaders representing all business areas and supported by subject-matter experts based upon each event. During a crisis event or business disruption, the CRT coordinates our response to help protect the well-being of employees, safeguard assets and provide continuity of critical processes.

The CRT utilizes a third-party web-based mass notification system that is not dependent on company infrastructure to distribute event notifications and communicate with employees. In addition, a crisis hotline is maintained for employees to report crisis events and obtain event status information.

Ameriprise dedicates significant resources to Business Continuity and Disaster Recovery to ensure that the firm is prepared should a business disruption occur. The Business Continuity and Disaster Recovery teams oversee all aspects of the program enterprise-wide, including crisis management, business continuity and disaster recovery, addressing every level of the organization by remediating facilities, technology, applications, data, processes, governance and corporate strategy — making continuity and recovery a part of the way we do business.

At Ameriprise Financial, we build long-term relationships with our clients and strive to serve them with a personalized approach in meeting their financial needs while providing outstanding client service. Business continuity is essential to achieve that goal. We are committed to service and protect our clients’ and the company’s assets without disruption, as well as to meet our regulatory obligations.

Business continuity is essential to achieve that goal. We are committed to service and protect our clients’ and the company’s assets without disruption, as well as to meet our regulatory obligations.
Disaster recovery
The Disaster Recovery Program oversees administration of disaster-recovery plans for our technology systems, applications and critical data. Recovery plans are designed and tested by our technology teams to address the specific needs and risks of each information-technology system or application at Ameriprise and our affiliates and subsidiaries. Plans are updated to reflect significant changes and the most current information, and they are renewed annually as part of our formal plan certification, which includes a detailed review and approvals process. Applications deemed business critical regularly participate in disaster-recovery exercises to test and validate the recoverability of critical data.

The backup and recovery of hard-copy and electronic data is of critical importance due to the significance of historical data in business operations, as well as the highly regulated industries in which our business operates. Electronic data is backed up among geographically dispersed data centers. Testing and validation of backup frequency is based upon the critical nature of the data. Our recovery approach is designed to guard against the loss of critical data.

We’re committed to helping you meet your financial goals, and we work hard to maintain strong relationships with all our clients. That means we’ll work as quickly as possible to resolve any issues or concerns you may have, if and when they come up.

Always check your account statements and confirmations to see if your transactions were processed according to your instructions — the right investments in the right amounts. Also look for fees that you don’t understand. If you see incorrect information on your account statements or confirmations, or if you have any other issues, you may take the following steps:

1. Contact your financial advisor right away. If you don’t have a financial advisor, contact the Customer Service Department at 1.800.862.7919. Most issues are addressed by speaking with a financial advisor or a Customer Service Department associate.

2. Contact your financial advisor’s branch office and ask to speak to the registered principal.

3. If the issue is not addressed to your satisfaction, please contact the Ameriprise Financial Compliance Department at 1.866.738.5934 or at the address noted below with your concerns:

   Ameriprise Financial
   2923 Ameriprise Financial Center H26/2923
   Minneapolis, MN 55474

   Any oral communications should be reconfirmed in writing to further protect your rights, including rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

4. If you’re unsatisfied with our response to your concerns, you may contact your state securities and/or insurance regulator or FINRA at FINRA.org.

At Ameriprise Financial, we want our clients to be clear on how we do business. We hope this guide helps clarify our relationship with you. It is meant to be a resource, but we understand that the core of our success is in our personal relationships. Please contact your financial advisor or us with any questions you may have. We’re delighted to have you as part of our Ameriprise Financial family.
